NO. 122—EIGHTY-SECOND YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1940 | EIGHTEEN PAGES

TWENTY NAZI PLANES DESTROYED AND AIR BASES ARE DAMAGED

British Bombers Pound Airfields in Norway and Denmark—Fires Started at Stavanger—Gasoline or Munitions Depot Near Oslo Blown Up—Raiders Driven From England

LONDON, May 3 (CP).—British bombers pounded German-held air bases in Norway and Denmark during the last twenty-four hours, it was announced today, and were believed to have started many fires and destroyed at least twenty Nazi planes.

Stavanger airport in Norway was so heavily bombed that a vast horseshoe of flames ringed the field, pilots reported.

Tonight heavy gunfire was heard off the southeast coast of England and planes believed to be German were sighted over the sea. Fighter planes rose to drive them off. German planes have been attempting to lay mines in this area almost every night this week.

The Nazi planes came, apparently, singly, and at intervals. For three hours intermittent gunfire was heard and searchlights stabbed the sky. Then the planes ceased their effort to penetrate the coastal defences.

CAUSE SEVERE EXPLOSION

Dispatches received in London indicated the R.A.F. had caused the explosion of a big gasoline or munitions depot at the Fornebu base outside Oslo.

Also bombed was the Ry base in Denmark, as the air force attempted to cripple the sources of Nazi air activity in the north.

Dispatches tonight said the ground defences of Stavanger apparently had been badly battered by previous

INSULTS CAUSE COSTLY FIRING

Broadcasts Lead to Expensive Exchange of Rifle and Artillery Fire

BASLE, Switzerland, May 3 (AP).—French and German soldiers got so worked up over an exchange of loudspeaker insults from one line to the other that the nearest thing to a battle yet staged on the Rhine front continued for an hour tonight.

It started when the broadcaster on a German musical programme which entertains the French through a loudspeaker departed from the usual insults to the British and compliments to the French to brag about the German victory in Norway.

This so excited the French broadcaster that he made uncomplimentary references about Adolf Hitler.

A German sharpshooter took a pot shot at the French loudspeaker with his rifle.

For an hour thereafter the whole sector north of Basle resounded with rifle, machine gun and heavy artillery fire.

Military observers estimated that at least $50,000 worth of ammunition was used up by both sides—and they doubted whether anyone in Germany's West Wall or France's Maginot Line even had been wounded.

Peggy Sykes Queen of May For Nanaimo

NANAIMO, May 3.—Peggy Sykes, 408 Selby Street, of John Shaw High School, was chosen as May queen for Nanaimo this year. Her maids of honor, chosen from city and district schools, will be Yvonne Gilmour, Harewood, and Pauline Parkin, Brechin. Mary Callewaert, St. Ann's Convent, will be flower girl. Mrs. W. Forsythe, Milton Street, will act as chaperone of the May queen party.

Completes First Journey of Kind

EDMONTON, May 3 (CP).—Completing the first automobile trip in history from Yellowknife, N.W.T., to Edmonton, Henry "Red" Dusseault, taxi operator at Yellowknife, arrived in Edmonton today to complete his 990-mile trip. He left Yellowknife on March 20.

The journey over the Winter road in the light car required three weeks. Storms delayed them many times.

GOVERNMENT IS DEFENDED

Sir John Simon Says Public Will See Moves Were For the Best

LONDON, May 3 (CP).—Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said in a speech today that the public eventually will see that the Government's moves in Norway were for the best, and added it would be futile for anyone to attempt to pin the responsibility for Scandinavian difficulties on any one minister.

Germany had forged a powerful war machine "organized and prepared to the last possible degree" which has demonstrated its striking power in trampling neutral neighbors of the Reich, Sir John said in an address at a National Liberal meeting.

Stressing that Great Britain was compelled to go to war by menace of Hitlerism, Sir John went on:

STAND TOGETHER

"It may take us some time to realize the full danger, but recent proceedings of Germany have been such as to call into battle from the other side of the world Canadians, South Africans, Australians and New Zealanders to stand beside their Mother Country in the bitter and costly conflict forced upon us by the resolve of one man to smash the peace of the world."

Warning that what happened to other nations might happen to Great Britain if it did not use its utmost strength to defend itself, he said:

"That is why we, who have been brought up in the liberal faith, who hate cruelty and the waste of war, who deplore that national wealth should be squandered in meeting its frightful expense when there is so much left to be done to improve the human lot under conditions of peace, declare that no sacrifice is too great to destroy this great threat to liberty and that whatever betide

CANADA RECEIVES NEWSPRINT ORDER

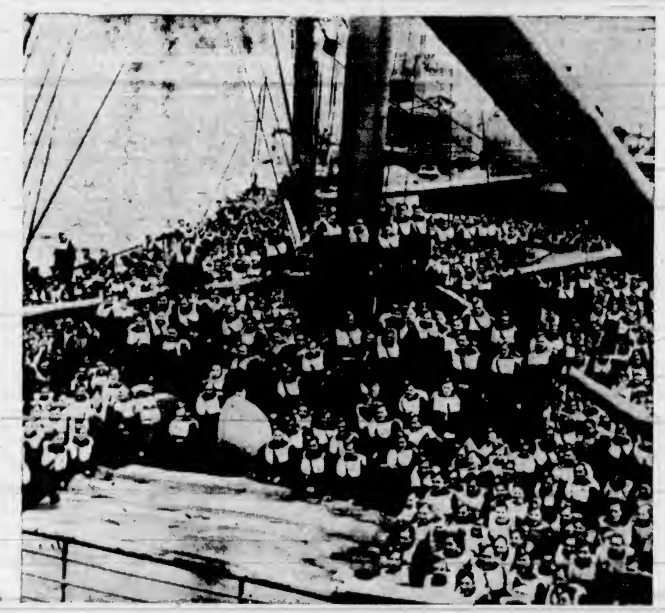

British Newsprint Interests Agree To Purchase $17,000,000 Worth In Dominion

OTTAWA, May 3 (CP).—L. G. Willgress, chief of the commercial intelligence branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, said tonight that an agreement with British newspaper interests to import 325,000 tons of Canadian and Newfoundland newsprint during the coming year was the result of recent negotiations.

The agreement was announced in London today and Canada's share of the total order, valued at approximately $17,000,000, will be about 200,000 tons.

"At present," said Mr. Wilgress, "we do not know just how existing newsprint contracts fit into the new agreement. But Canada is well equipped with supplies to meet demand."

Proclamation Act Being Considered In Gasoline Case

B.C. Legislature May Be Asked to Pass General Purpose Measure, Giving Province Permissive Control of Wider Field—Bulk-Rate Price To Be Added to the Adjusted Order

A PROCLAMATION bill giving the Province of British Columbia permissive authority to enter into the gasoline business at any time it elected to do so, is expected to be the main legislation that will be presented by the Provincial Government at the special session of the Legislature, convening on Wednesday afternoon. Confirmation cannot be forthcoming until members of the House themselves have been presented with the legislation.

GASOLINE ONLY SESSION TOPIC

Brief Sitting of House for Part of Next Week May Run Into $12,000

The special session of the Nineteenth Legislature called for Wednesday next will be opened without ceremonial flourishes and will get right down to business, it was intimated yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will declare the session open at 3 p.m., with the briefest of ceremonies. Special legislation dealing with gasoline only will be considered, apart from the machinery of the special session itself.

Sessional staffs necessary for the opening of the House were being assembled yesterday by W. O. Weston, sergeant-at-arms, together with the clearing out of committee and other rooms required for the use of forty-eight members when they arrive next week.

Members, it is unofficially expected, will be paid mileage for the return journey to Victoria, and may receive a per diem allowance for the actual days of the session. Even on this limited basis, the special session may cost in the neighborhood of $12,000, it was estimated.

In October the regular session will follow, with the 1941-42 budget and ordinary legislation to be presented at that time.

While official comment was withheld, it is believed that further search by legal advisers of the Government into statute remedies has revealed the fact that the present Fuel Control Board measure, under which the gasoline companies have now accepted regulation, must stand, unless a whole new investigation is to be begun under the Public Utilities Act, under which, in any event, price regulation of an imported base article would be insecure.

A SPECIAL ACT

Meeting these objections, it is believed that the Government will present an entirely new bill, by way of a special measure to confer authority on the Province to enter the gasoline field itself in all its branches. By leaving the measure subject to proclamation at any time,

POLICE PUZZLE OVER FINDINGS

Young Woman Is Killed—Radio Set and Log of Shipping Found

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—A young woman was killed by gas today in a Greenwich Village studio apartment in which police discovered a shortwave radio apparatus and a log of ship movements at sea, principally of Italian and Norwegian vessels.

A marriage licence application found in a handbag near the body described the applicant as Elizabeth P. Piroska, twenty-one, nurse, of Perth Amboy, N.J., a native of Hungary. The name "Piroska" had been lined out by pen and the name "Brown" substituted.

THINK DEATH ACCIDENTAL

Police said the death apparently was accidental and theorized that a pot of water had boiled over and extinguished the flame of a gas jet which was found open.

The apartment, police said, was held in the name of Carl G. Smildzin, who was absent from the residence during the forenoon.

Police said they were curious about the radio outfit, which was identified by the letters W2IAM, and that they were especially puzzled over the ship log.

WHEAT SUPPLIES ASSURED

LIVERPOOL, May 3 (CP).—Lord Woolton, Minister of Food, said today that Britain's wheat supplies are assured and that his chief goal not only is enough food for the poorest, but food at a price they can pay.

ALLIES MAY SEEK ACCORD

Italy May Be Asked to Limit Imports of Reshipment Goods

PARIS, May 3 (CP-Havas).—Authoritative quarters said tonight Italy may soon be asked by the Allies to follow the example of other neutrals by limiting her imports of goods which may later find their way across the border to Germany.

It was pointed out such countries as Switzerland have concluded trade agreements with the Allies holding down exports to the Reich to their pre-war level.

A factor which must loom large in Il Duce's mind as he considers peace or war, diplomatic sources said, is that if he fights for Hitler he will increase his dependence on Soviet Russia to an alarming degree. He may have to accept a triangular Rome-Berlin-Moscow axis which he thus far has rejected.

WOULD LOSE HEAVILY

Diplomatic sources pointed out the moment Italy becomes a belligerent, she would lose—as was emphasized in conversations just held at Rome between the United States ambassador, William Phillips, and Italian leaders—not only her imports from France and Great Britain, but those from United States.

Italy thus would become victim of the same blockade which is throttling Germany, it was held here, and Germany herself would lose the trickle that comes to her through the re-exports of her axis partner.

Thus she would be forced to return to the U.S.S.R. Her dependence on Moscow would be all the more complete in view of the fact that the two nations are rivals in the Balkans, these sources said. Moscow is negotiating for resumption of trade relations with Belgrade now and similar negotiations with Budapest are in prospect.

High Paris circles believe that under these circumstances Italy will be forced soon to clarify her position either by going to war or observing the rules of neutrality.

PAY TRIBUTE TO RETIRING JURIST

Chief Justice Archer Martin Honored by Bench and Bar in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, May 3 (CP).—Bench and bar gathered together at dinner in Hotel Vancouver tonight to pay double tribute to Chief Justice Archer Martin, one of British Columbia's greater jurists, who will retire from the British Columbia Court of Appeal and Admiralty Court on his seventy-fifth birthday, Monday.

His retirement on Monday brings to an end an oft-expressed belief of his that all justices should retire at the age of seventy-five.

Chicago Dairy Strike Settled

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP).—The city-wide strike of organized dairy employees, which halted virtually all home milk deliveries, was settled early today.

Representatives of the striking Milk Wagon Drivers' Union and the Associated Milk Dealers of Chicago reached an agreement providing for immediate ending of the strike, which began Wednesday, and arranged for further negotiations.

Spread of Conflict To Greece Feared as Big Fleets Assemble

Large-Scale Italian Naval, Air and Army Concentrations Reported in Dodecanese Islands—Turkey Prepares for Any Eventuality

ATHENS, May 3 (AP).—Arrival of a British-French battle fleet in Alexandria and reports of large-scale Italian naval, air and army concentrations in the Dodecanese Islands switched Southeastern Europe's anxiety over possible spread of the war sharply to Greece today.

Athens itself was calm, but alert.

In Turkey, the Allied fleet's arrival at its Egyptian base was greeted as new evidence that Britain and France are determined to fulfill their obligations in the Near East, which include a mutual assistance treaty with Turkey and guarantees of the independence of both Greece and Rumania.

There was no outward show of belief either in Greece or Turkey that war is imminent, but both countries pursued their defence preparations.

BRITISH IN REARGUARD ACTION PROTECTING NORWEGIAN TROOPS

Hold Enemy Back While Transports Boarded by Scandinavian Allies Embarking With Expeditionary Force of Great Britain and France Withdrawing From South of Norway

Operation Is Carried Out Successfully With No Loss

LONDON, May 4 (Saturday) (CP).—The Allies have left Southern Norway and the fronts immediately north and south of Trondhjem in the hands of the enemy. But in doing so they embarked with the withdrawing expeditionary force—at least in the south—all the Norwegian troops which Norway's High Command decided could be best employed elsewhere.

Early today it was learned British troops at Andalsnes, south of Trondhjem, under Major-General Tolver Paget, fought a rearguard action to protect Norwegian troops while the Norwegians boarded transports there.

Andalsnes was evacuated Wednesday night. Late Friday the War Office announced that British and French forces had withdrawn also from Namsos, north of Trondhjem, leaving the Allies only the area around Narvik, 300 miles north, where German troops were still holding out but apparently doomed to eventual defeat.

REPORTED ORDER

Whether or not Norwegians were also embarked at Namsos was not clear here immediately. In Stockholm Colonel O. B. Getz, described as the acting Norwegian commander in the Tronddiag (Steinkjer-Namsos) area, was reported to have issued an order of the day reporting he had notified the German commander to establish contact with a view to an armistice in that area, and charging the Allies with leaving him outflanked for unknown reasons and without telling him.

But in London the War Office

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, May 3 (By Cable).—The Allies quit their positions south of Trondhjem in Norway, says The Times, for two reasons: First, the Germans, by sacrificing lives extravagantly, were able to reinforce their armies faster than the Allies, and secondly, because enemy superiority in the air prevented the Allies from landing heavy tanks and artillery by which alone their position could have been maintained.

The Times suggests that when Chamberlain makes a fuller statement next week, Parliament will wish to inquire more closely into the time table of operations.

There is a strong case for considering, says the newspaper, whether the Allies' relief force for Finland might not have been kept together a little longer. Had it been ready for instant dispatch it is arguable whether a day or two gained might not have made an essential difference in preventing the Germans from seizing vital air bases.

The Times' aeronautical correspondent says, while the Allies excelled in the use of sea power, they were found wanting in air power over Norway. This reflects no discredit on the air force, but was solely due to the inability to secure land bases quickly enough.

The Allies were obliged to conduct aerial attacks at great distances from their bases against strong opposition. The fighter machines, which were dispatched later in operations, were not the latest types because of the restricted size of the Norwegian bases that could be utilized.

Large-scale use of troop transport and planes by the Nazis also contains a lesson for the Allies.

The shock to Sweden caused by news of the withdrawal from the Trondhjem region has been severe. In Stockholm it is said the Allied prestige could hardly have received a worse blow. The half-hearted attitude towards help for Norway, say the Swedes, means that Norwegians in Southern Norway can not hold out long and they ask: When the Germans have possession of Southern Norway, how can the Allies, operating from the north, recover it?

The Swedes now think their chances of avoiding a German attack rests chiefly in Russia's objection to German advances in the Eastern Baltic.

In France disappointment is severe and in Italy the attitude is one of satirical "we told you so."

However, the Italians are surprised by the reinforcement of Allied sea power in the Mediterranean and are now wondering whether the wholesale sinkings of British warships by Nazis propaganda were really true.

The Norwegian fort at Hegre is still holding out, though the Germans are in the little village of Heil, only a mile distant. While the garrison make it impossible by its artillery for the Germans to use the important air field of Varnes, near Trondhjem.

COMMUNISTS INTERNED

PARIS, May 3 (CP-Havas).—Internment on islands in the Bay of Biscay of 206 Communists, members of the Chamber of Deputies, departmental counsellors and mayors before their party was banned, was announced here today.

WITHDRAWAL AN INCIDENT

French Military Spokesmen Undismayed by Setback—Poles Mark Holiday

PARIS, May 3 (CP-Havas).—Military spokesmen in Paris called the withdrawal of Allied troops from the Trondhjem area in Norway today merely a "strategic incident."

Germany's show of strength, French sources stated, already has back-fired by throwing Sweden and the Danubian states into the "protecting" arms of Soviet Russia.

Barring of Norwegian territorial waters in the North Sea to German shipping, and the addition of the bulk of the Danish and Norwegian merchant ships to the Allied cause, likewise were listed on the credit side of the ledger.

ON HOME FRONT

Meanwhile France pushed the war on the home front, announcing 206 Communists were to be interned on islands in the Bay of Biscay.

A military appeals court rejected the pleas of twenty-eight former Communist Deputies against prison sentences and fines imposed by a lower military tribunal.

Poland-in-exile marked the national holiday commemorating the date on which Poland regained her independence in 1791, after the first partition.

While hundreds of persons filed through a large hall in the Champs Elysees to see an exhibit of pictures showing the Nazi devastation in Poland, Mass was said at the Church of the Assumption and a wreath was placed on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Poland's name.

REFUGEES REPORT CONCENTRATIONS

Czechs Say Large Numbers of German Troops Massed at Various Points

BUDAPEST, May 4 (AP). — Czech refugees arriving here today declared that German mechanized troops in large numbers are concentrated in Slovakia along the Hungarian border at points from which they could make a quick dash into the Balkans.

It was reported also that more than 100,000 "lightning troops" were concentrated at Bruck on the Vienna-Budapest Railway Line, that three army corps were at Krakow, German-occupied Poland, and large forces were massed at Klagenfurt, Austria, near the Yugoslav border.

Allied Forces Leave Namsos Amid Hail of Bombs From Enemy

Destruction of Docks Makes Embarkation Difficult—Skies Filled With Anti-Aircraft Shells From Destroyers as Nazis Attack Incessantly

STOCKHOLM, May 4 (AP).—Swedish correspondents reported early today Allied forces, who withdrew yesterday from Namsos, north of strategic Trondhjem, left amid a hail of bombs from power-diving Nazi bombers.

The high-flying planes came in droves, the correspondents said, while anti-aircraft guns on the transports kept the night skies filled with bursting shells.

Advices reaching Stockholm said that Norwegian troops left behind were at first divided as to a course of action: Some fled into the mountains, one report said, led by a Lieut. Dahl. He was described as a "fanatical patriot, but nevertheless a good soldier."

The Swedish News Agency correspondent, describing Namsos as "shot to pieces," said Allied troops milled about in a small area of the town awaiting their turn to make for the departing transports while swarms of German planes bombed the harbor incessantly.

The Aftonbladet correspondent said the departing troops left behind huge quantities of valuable war materials such as heavy anti-

MIGHTY FLEET AT ALEXANDRIA

Allied Naval Squadron Most Powerful Ever Assembled In Mediterranean

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, May 3 (AP).—The most powerful Allied naval squadron ever assembled in the Mediterranean steamed into the sunny harbor of Alexandria today, within striking distance of the Italian-owned Dodecanese Islands.

The long line of grey warships stretched from Alexandria Harbor almost to the horizon—the waters where Nelson scored a vital naval victory for Great Britain over Napoleon's navy in 1798.

Battleships, cruisers, destroyers and submarines with "mother" ships were in the squadron, the forerunner of an even larger Franco-British naval force expected at Alexandria in a few days. The ships were in full fighting trim.

LINER WAITS OUTSIDE

The Italian liner Marco Polo, arriving at Alexandria as the fleet appeared on the horizon, had to stay outside the harbor until the warships entered.

Alexandria, at the mouth of the Nile, and near the entrance to the Suez Canal, was put in readiness for any eventuality as the Allies prepared for possible extension of the war to the Near East.

Coastal and anti-aircraft batteries were manned, military flying was reduced to conserve engines and petrol, and the "desert air watch" of lonely Egyptian sentinels linked by telephone was strung out across the sands from the Nile Delta to the western frontier with Italian Libya.

TO HEAD R.A.F. IN MIDDLE EAST

Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Longmore Is Named Commander-in-Chief

LONDON, May 3 (CP).—Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Longmore tonight was named to succeed Air Marshal Sir William G. S. Mitchell as commander-in-chief of the Royal Air Force in the Middle East, effective May 20.

Sir Arthur is fifty-five. During part of 1933 and 1934 he served as air officer commanding the inland area and from 1934 to the outbreak of the war commanded the coastal area.

Sir William Mitchell is fifty-two. He served with the Highland Light Infantry from 1909 until 1913, when he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps. After serving four years as director of air training for the Air Ministry between 1929 and 1933 he spent the following year in the Air Force College at Cranwell and then was named commander of the British forces in Iraq.

Urges Retention of Street Car System For War's Duration

Chamber of Commerce Believes Change Now Would Entail Heavy Added Expenditure, and Exchange Board Might Veto Bond Transfer

DIRECTORS of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday unanimously adopted a recommendation by the transportation committee of the chamber that the City Council should be urged to shelve any further action on the transportation question until after the war.

The committee backed its recommendation with the following reasons:

"1. That any change from the present system to another would necessitate the expenditure of a large sum of money, a considerable portion probably going out of this country, and with United States funds at 11 per cent premium, the financial burden would be that much heavier, with no material gain, and such money could be used to better advantage in Canada for war purposes;

"2. The installing, at the present time, of a bus system to replace street cars would mean the export of Canadian dollars for gasoline, which is not desired under present war conditions;

COSTS AT PEAK

"3. That the cost of all materials and labor will be at its peak during wartime.

"4. That a new transportation system would result in the City of Victoria and adjacent municipalities being obligated to expend considerable money on road improvements to suit any new system.

"5. That on termination of hostilities thousands of men will be released from the forces and will be seeking employment; a large number of such men could find employment if a new transportation system was then being brought into effect;

"6. That any system of transportation for Victoria city alone would place the adjacent municipalities at considerable disadvantage and be detrimental to business in Victoria; and, finally, delay and continued study by all concerned will mean a greater chance of the three municipalities coming to a full agreement on a unified system of transportation for Greater Victoria."

Factories in Canada capable of producing suitable buses would be fully occupied in the manufacture of war equipment, necessitating the importation of buses from the United States, it was stated during discussion of the report.

SANCTION DOUBTFUL

G. H. Stevens question whether the Foreign Exchange Board would permit the transfer of Canadian funds to the United States that would be required for the purchase of a fleet of buses.

Walter Luney, chairman of the transportation committee, stated that application had been made to the City Council for a copy of the proposed form of tender. In reply, the council had informed the committee that, when ready, a copy of the form could be had on deposit of $100.

Referring to the proposed alternative tenders—for a Greater Victoria system or for the city alone—Mr. Luney said the committee felt that if by any chance some unscrupulous company made such an attractive offer that the council would close for a city system alone, the adjoining municipalities would be placed at a serious disadvantage, since the successful tenderer for the city system would have the sole right of operating over the city streets.

If provision were not made for a transportation system capable of bringing the residents of the municipalities into Victoria at a cheap rate, there would be a big inducement to the establishment of businesses in the municipalities, Mr. Luney contended.

MERCHANTS APATHETIC

"I am surprised that the merchants of Victoria are not taking a definite stand in this matter," he said. "It means the difference between profit and loss if the municipalities go into the retail business."

George E. MacDonald, chairman of the retail merchants' section of the chamber, fully concurred with Mr. Luney on that point.

Mr. Stevens asserted that the City Council could not expect to receive any response to a call for tenders as a "feeler," as the council proposed to do. "It's ridiculous that any intelligent body of men should think they could do that," he said. "The tender means nothing. They can always get estimates from competent transportation men."

Mr. Stevens said it was true that the street railway system was not perfect, but the electric power was available, and as a patriotic matter the city should stand behind the present system until the war was over.

OAK BAY'S POSITION

Reeve R. R. Taylor stated that although Oak Bay was in a happy position in the matter of transportation, the municipality would be glad to have a unified system for Greater Victoria. If a new system were effective in the city alone, Oak Bay would have to enlarge its zoned business area. "We have not done so thus far, in order that business should not be diverted from the city, where we feel it rightly belongs," the reeve said. He expressed the opinion that the value of the transportation survey work that had been done would not be lost if further action were delayed.

Mr. Luney pointed out that if a bus system were established, the city would suffer a substantial pecuniary loss in the sale of water to the B.C. Electric Railway Company for the generation of power to operate the street car system.

COUSINS ARRESTED FOR BANK STEALING

TORONTO, May 3 (CP).—Police tonight disclosed the arrest of two cousins, Michael Anthony Schultz, twenty-nine, and Michael Schultz, thirty-three, on charges of stealing $18,249 from an Imperial Bank of Canada branch here.

RAIN HALTS SEEDING

CALGARY, May 3 (CP).—Already delayed two weeks by April storms, seeding in Alberta was set back another day today by heavy rain in the Northern and Eastern sections of the province.

Despite today's showers, however, agriculturists in Calgary said if no more rain fell, seeding would be general over the entire province by the end of next week.

Centenarian Exercises

Although he will be 103 years young tomorrow, George Laramee thinks his back garden needs brightening up a little, so sets about the task while The Colonist photographer snaps his picture. Hard work has featured the better part of his more than one hundred years, the centenarian said yesterday, and helped in promoting his longevity.

BRITISH FIGHT REARGUARD ACTION

announced the Norwegian commander-in-chief embarked with his staff on a British warship the night of May 1-2 (Wednesday night and Thursday morning) and declared "there is no foundation for the statement that the Norwegian commander-in-chief was not informed of the Allied decision to evacuate the Trondhjem area or that he has negotiated an armistice." (The Norwegian commander-in-chief, unnamed in the War Office communique, is General Otto Ruge.)

POSSIBLE EXPLANATIONS

This was presumed to be a refutation of the Getz assertion, but informed sources here were reluctant to comment on the so-called "order of the day" attributed to Getz in the Stockholm reports. Two possible explanations for it were advanced—first, that the Norwegian High Command had instructed Getz to remain in the area after the Allies withdrew; second, that the entire "order" might be an invention of German propaganda.

Norway's King Haakon was reported tonight aboard a British warship bound for his country's northern area.

Despite Friday night's announcement of withdrawal, a reliable military source earlier that day declared emphatically Great Britain has "no intention of abandoning Norway." Further evidence to this effect was seen in smashing attacks on German-held air bases which were believed to have started many fires and destroyed a score of German planes.

Just where the withdrawn troops were headed was naturally not announced, for military reasons. But the fact that Norwegians went with them lent force to the theory that the plan was to transfer at least some of them to other Norwegian areas—probably the North, near the foothold of Narvik.

WAR OFFICE BULLETIN

The brief War Office bulletin said the withdrawal was affected without loss. It read:

"In accordance with the general plan of withdrawal from the immediate neighborhood of Trondhjem, Allied troops were re-embarked at Namsos last night.

"Withdrawal and re-embarkation was carried out with complete success and without loss.

"Allied troops advancing in the Narvik area were counter-attacked on May 1 and 2 by the enemy. Both attacks were repulsed. Many enemy dead were left in front of our positions and some prisoners were taken by the Allied troops."

Narvik is important because it is the Norwegian terminus of the railway from the vital Swedish iron ore mines. It is cut off from the southern half of Norway by wild mountainous country with deep sea inlets. There are no connecting roads and the railway is the only means of transportation to the south.

ENDS CHAPTER ONE

The withdrawal closed one chapter in the Norwegian campaign. It signified abandonment at least for the present of the attempt to wrest the southern part of the country from the Nazis.

The biggest factor in the Nazis' success, it was believed, was their superior air power due to control of all available air bases.

Far from the Northern Front, the powerful Anglo-French battle fleet steamed into Alexandria Harbor at the eastern end of the Mediterranean. It was a gesture of a significance which will not be overlooked by Italy, competent sources pointed out, where a number of High Command officials delivered a series of warlike speeches during the last few days. Taken with the diversion of British shipping from the Mediterranean, it was regarded as conclusive proof the Allies are on the alert for any German-Italian axis move in that zone.

Failure of Britain and France in the Trondhjem area created widespread dismay in the neutral countries. Sweden, on whose iron ore the Nazis cast covetous eyes, was reported to be particularly disturbed.

There were strong repercussions at home, also. Two members of the Government party in the House of Commons voiced outspoken criticism of Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Richard K. Law, son of the late Canadian-born British Prime Minister, Andrew Bonar Law, told a meeting at Hull that it was obvious something was wrong with the direction of the war. It could only be righted, he said, by the formation of a genuine National Government.

"If Mr. Chamberlain is the right man to lead a united nation, let him lead it. If he is not the right man, then let the right man be found," he said.

Clement Davies, National Liberal, speaking at Oxford, declared "The country cannot be properly organized until the Government goes." He denounced the "lethargy, complacency and feeling that we would muddle through."

"What we want," he added, "is a real war Cabinet with someone on top who can decide a question."

SEA LORD'S VIEW

This view, that more vigorous direction is needed, was echoed also by Rear-Admiral Bruce Fraser, Third Sea Lord, who during a luncheon speech said the Norwegian experience had shown the need for Britain to become "quicker off the mark" in future war operations.

These speeches were regarded as showing the Government is faced with powerful criticism in its handling of the Norwegian campaign in next week's debate.

Mr. Chamberlain has weathered many parliamentary storms, but observers said it seemed likely that this would be the administration's sternest test since the war started.

YEARS REST BUT LIGHTLY

George Laramee Is Still Hale And Hearty as 103rd Milestone Draws Near

One hundred and three years have weighed but lightly on the shoulders of George Laramee, pioneer miner and logger of Canada, who said yesterday that he would celebrate his 103rd birthday tomorrow.

Mr. Laramee, who resides at 2466 Epworth Street, is hale and hearty and enjoys the outdoors, where he has spent most of his life.

Born on a farm, thirty-five miles from Montreal, on May 5, 1837, the centenarian went to work in logging camps in Quebec and Ontario when he was only thirteen years old. Before he attained his majority he was timber cruising and surveying around Lake Michigan. A first cousin of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Laramee has been a bachelor all his life.

Yesterday a reporter had some difficulty locating the hardy French-Canadian, but finally found him in a nearby grocery store, where he was carefully selecting vegetables and groceries for his dinner. He declined help with his bundle of provisions and sauntered along the street chatting gaily.

SMOKES TOO MUCH

"I smoke too much," he said, drawing hard on a pipe that had seen many years of service itself. "I should cut down on it."

"Well, how much do you smoke a day; don't you find it hurts you at your age?" he was asked.

"I'm smoking all day long," he replied, "right from the time I get up at 6 o'clock in the morning until bedtime, around 9:30 or 10 o'clock. Pipe and cigars. Been smoking since I was a little kid."

Although he wielded a spade to prove that he could still do manual labor, Mr. Laramee declared that he hadn't done much work in his garden for the last two years. He didn't have the energy any more.

HARD WORK IS RECIPE

Plenty of good heavy work, which has induced sound sleep when one lay down for the night, was probably the centenarian's paramount recipe for a long life.

"I've always eaten lots of good plain food, beans and pork, but never just before retiring," he said. Three spoonsful of linseed, sugared to taste, or drinks made from spruce bark or certain herbs were good for purifying the blood and maintaining good health, the aged authority continued.

Mr. Laramee said that he never married because he traveled around too much and didn't want to leave a wife behind.

Early in his career he came to the Pacific Coast, lured by tales of gold in California creeks and rivers. He had many adventures both in California and the Klondike.

NIGHT WATCHMAN

Proud of his agility, Mr. Laramee boasted that before he came to Victoria ten years ago, he was employed as night watchman at the former Anyox smelter. Each night, he said, he climbed 365 steps six times and in all walked a total of twenty-two miles every night.

Doing this seven days a week, 365 days a year, Mr. Laramee figured he had walked a long way.

In his early life he was interested in electricity and told The Colonist reporter that he worked with Thomas A. Edison in a tobacco factory in Montreal in 1870.

Says Good-Bye to Horses

FORTY-SEVEN years is a long time to work behind a team of horses, but Herbert W. Gardner, veteran Oak Bay municipal employee, didn't allow himself to get in a rut. Just two weeks ago when the municipality sold its last two horses, Mr. Gardner assumed the roll of a truck driver. In the above picture he is shown behind the wheel of the two and one-half-ton truck he operates about the municipality, where he is popular with all the youngsters. Born in Steeple-Aston, Oxfordshire, on May 28, 1881, Mr. Gardner came to Victoria with his wife in June, 1907, and started to work for Oak Bay, driving the first horse in the municipality. He has been on the municipal payroll for thirty-three years.

PROCLAMATION ACT BEING CONSIDERED

the Province would thus have an additional element of control over the distribution of gasoline, without in effect using it. Use of the measure in many respects would for the Province be a last-ditch step. That the authority will be created and held in reserve, however, seemed probable yesterday in circles close to the Administration.

As the day proceeded, the Provincial Fuel Control Board made arrangements to incorporate the new price agreement with the companies in a special order, to be known as Regulation N. 11. As announced, it will fix the retail base price at Vancouver on ordinary grade of gasoline at 25 cents, including a fixed spread of 4 cents to the retailer.

During the day the board conferred with representatives of the oil companies as to an intermediate price for commercial sales in bulk, not covered in the first order.

TO ADD RATE

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the board, explained that it had been the practice of oil companies to supply bulk gasoline to heavy commercial users at a reduction under the retail price. By the Government's new settlement, unless changed, such sales would carry the full retail price. Negotiation followed with a view to striking an intermediate rate for these sales, affecting transportation concerns, dyers and cleaners, and some other industrial users of bulk quantities.

Representatives of the oil companies will arrive in the city again today to discuss the intermediate rate with the fuel board, Dr. Carrothers announced. The board, he stated, is willing to provide for bulk sales at some advance on the fixed wholesale price. Details of the arrangement will be worked out today and made part of the new order.

Is Planning for German Vacations

BELGRADE, May 3 (CP-Havas).—Dr. Hermann Esser, Secretary of State in the Reich Ministry of Propaganda with the special task of arranging tours for Germans to other countries and bringing foreign visitors to Germany, today conferred with the Yugoslav Commerce Minister, Ivan Andres, on a plan to bring large numbers of young Germans to Yugoslavia during the Summer vacation.

The German propaganda official also has arranged to see Premier Dragisha Cvetkovic on the tourist plan, but it was generally believed here it is doomed to failure because of the recent co-operation between "tourists" and "fifth columns" in Scandinavia.

IMPOSTOR FINED

TORONTO, May 3 (CP).—Albert O'Brien was fined $100 and costs today on a charge of unlawfully wearing a military badge, and was sentenced to two months in jail on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences. O'Brien was selling camphor crystals from door to door in an envelope reading, "Sold by a soldier."

New Canadian Chief Of Salvation Army Pays Official Visit

Commissioner Benjamin Orames Welcomed to City by Mayor Andrew McGavin—Is Confident Coming Campaign Will Reach Its Objective

SOLDIERS and workers of the Salvation Army all across Canada have been called upon for a tremendous effort since the war began, and the rapid expansion of the army's operations will call for an even greater effort in the near future, Commissioner Benjamin Orames, territorial commander of the Salvation Army for Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda and Alaska, said on his arrival in Victoria from Seattle yesterday afternoon.

Speaking of the Salvation Army's drive for funds shortly to be launched throughout the Dominion, the commissioner said: "I believe we will get the $1,000,000 we have set as our objective, and if we do, $600,000 of it will be used for war purposes. There are greater demands upon the Salvation Army today than ever before, and when the drive begins, I hope the people of Canada will give their hearty and practical co-operation."

WORKERS GOING OVERSEAS

Since war was declared, Commissioner Orames said, the Salvation Army had opened huts for service men in many parts of the Dominion, and many more were in prospect. For the operation of these huts a huge number of workers was necessary, and the extension of the Salvation Army work overseas meant that soon workers would have to be sent from Canada.

Paying his first visit to Victoria since succeeding General Carpenter as territorial commander last year, Commissioner Orames was welcomed on the arrival of the Seattle ferry by Brigadier Matthew Junker, divisional commander for Southern British Columbia, and Victoria officers and members of the local advisory board, headed by Lieut.-Col. F. Brooke Stephenson, the board's chairman. He was accompanied by Lieut.-Col James Merritt, territorial social secretary.

PUBLIC WELCOME

The visiting officers were the guests of the advisory board at luncheon in the Union Club, and in the evening were welcomed to the city at a meeting held in the Salvation Army Citadel on Broad Street, under the chairmanship of Colonel Stephenson.

The territorial commander was welcomed on behalf of the city by Mayor Andrew McGavin, who praised the work of the Salvation Army in all its phases, and paid a special tribute to Adjutant Charles Watt, in charge of the Victoria Citadel Corps, remarking, "If all the officers in other parts of Canada are as good as he, the work of the Salvation Army will prosper."

Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, assured Commissioner Orames of the warm support of the churches and people of Victoria and Canada as a whole.

Colonel Stephenson, who went overseas as a private in the last war, spoke of the great value of the Salvation Army's work in 1914-18, providing a haven for anyone in need, physically or spiritually. He warmly commended the work in the present war, declaring that the Salvation Army was playing a big part in the winning of it.

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

In an encouraging message in days of war, the territorial commander said that the present was not a time for heads to be held down in nervousness or fear. "We should be steady, loyal, and optimistic, remembering that behind us there are vast resources; and, more than that, remembering that we stand for justice, equity, the care of the weak, and the welfare of all mankind," the commissioner said.

"The tide of battle ebbs and flows, and I take great confidence in looking back over the history of Europe. I have enough courage and confidence, and hope and optimism, to believe that the tide of Hitlerism will ebb, and that we shall know peace again."

ARE FOUND GUILTY OF SABOTAGE CONSPIRACY

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—Five members of Local 150 of the United Machinists of the Needle Industries Union were convicted today of conspiracy to commit violence in the restraint of business. They were accused of conducting a "crime school," in which unionists were taught how to throw acid and stench bombs, and other acts of industrial sabotage.

Hospital Nurse: "You say financial difficulties brought you here?"

Patient: "Yes. I saw my tailor coming, crossed the road to avoid him and halfway across I saw another creditor on the other side. I did not know what to do, hesitated and went under a car."

Salvation Army Leader Is Welcomed

RIEL REBELLION VETERANS MEET

Annual Gathering as Guests Of Bishop George E. Lloyd Held Thursday Night

The veterans of the Northwest Field Force of 1885 were the guests of the president of the association, Rt. Rev. Bishop George E. Lloyd, at the Douglas Hotel on Thursday, the fifty-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Cut Knife Creek.

Lieut.-Gen. Sir Percy Lake and Col. Lorne Ross were present and spoke briefly. Bishop Lloyd gave an interesting account of the relief of the garrison and civilians who had taken shelter in a stockade, and of the 140-mile march from Swift Current to Battleford of the 2nd Queens Own Rifles under the command of Colonel Otter. He told of the brilliant tactics of Colonel Otter, who, with less than 300 men, engaged more than a thousand Indians and breeds and routed them out of their prepared positions and relieved the garrison. This engagement also prevented the rebels joining Riel at Batoche, thus insuring the victory of the force under General Sir Fred Middleton and ending the war.

Tribute was paid Colonel Otter and the comrades who fell at Cut Knife.

Letters of regret were received from seven members, who, due to illness or other reasons, could not attend. It was decided to hold a reunion on May 12 of each year. After a hearty vote of thanks to Bishop Lloyd, the meeting broke up shortly after 10 p.m.

IS KILLED AFTER DOWNING GERMAN

R.A.F. Gunner Shoots Down One of Three Enemy Fighters Over Borkum

LONDON, May 3 (CP).—The gunner of a British reconnaissance plane shot down one of three German fighters in a fierce battle near the Island of Borkum, in the North Sea, today, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

The gunner later was killed by bullets from one of the other German fighters.

The battle was described in the following Air Ministry statement:

"Early today a reconnaissance aircraft of the R.A.F. was attacked by three enemy fighters near the Island of Borkum. In the fierce battle which followed, the gunner of the British aircraft was killed, but not before he had shot down one of the enemy.

"The two remaining fighters eventually broke off the engagement. Our pilot and navigator both were wounded, but succeeded in bringing their aircraft safely back to the base."

SEATTLE MAN TO JOIN AIR FORCE

R. G. Christy, Former Resident of Victoria, Answers Call to British Colors

ROLAND G. CHRISTY

Roland G. Christy, a former resident of Victoria, and for the past seven years in business in Seattle, left for Vancouver this week to accept a commission in the air force. He is believed to be the first Seattle resident to answer the call to the British colors during the present war, and expects to be sent immediately to Eastern Canada for training.

Mr. Christy enlisted as a bugler in the 7th Battalion during the last war when he was fourteen years of age, and saw forty months' service in France. He served most of his time in the infantry, but later obtained a commission in the flying corps.

On his return to Canada after the Armistice, he was commissioned a captain in the Canadian Scottish Regiment and remained active in that unit until he moved to Seattle.

SOME QUEER FRUIT

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (AP).—Ever hear of a spherical, gourd-like fruit that blows apart with a loud explosion when it's ripe? Or a melon that has meat like an orange but tastes like a combination of muskmelon, papaya and pineapple? Russel C. Westcott, plant explorer, has returned from a trip to Central American jungles with samples of them as proof.

CANADA READY FOR EMERGENCY

Colonel A. E. Snell, Ottawa, Director of St. John Ambulance Work, Here

Should the emergency ever arise, Canada will have within herself groups of men well trained in air-raid precaution work who will be able to give expert instruction in proper adjustment and use of helmets and gas masks and the care of victims of gas bombs, was the reassuring message given on his arrival here yesterday afternoon of Colonel A. E. Snell, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.B., O. St. J., of Ottawa.

Colonel Snell, who is Dominion director of ambulance for the St. John Ambulance Association, and commandery commissioner of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, was accompanied by Mrs. Snell, and was welcomed at the C.P.R. dock by G. H. Stevens, president of the Provincial branch of the St. John Ambulance Association, and H. W. Edwardson, honorary secretary, and with them immediately proceeded to the Empress Hotel, which will be his headquarters during his stay in the city.

"We have been carrying on air-raid precaution work quietly for the last two years, training a certain number of men and women who will be equipped in the event of sabotage, shelling, bombing, or similar emergency," Colonel Snell informed The Colonist after briefly outlining the work which the association had previously been carrying on in connection with first-aid, stretcher-bearers, etc. Air-raid precaution training was a comparatively new course, and during his present coast-to-coast tour an important part of Colonel Snell's work has been in connection with inspection of air-raid precaution corps.

NO ACTUAL DANGER

"There is no actual danger, so far as we know, at the moment, but we have taken up this air-raid precaution work as a precaution in case of emergency, not only on the East Coast, although we are giving it greater attention there, but also on the West Coast," said Colonel Snell, who said that owing to the more naturally protected inland position of Toronto, Montreal, and the Prairie cities, less emphasis was being placed on A.R.P. work there.

During his inspection trip through Western Canada, Colonel Snell had been much struck by the keenness of women to do V.A.D. work. But up to the present there had been no call for V.A.D.'s. He also referred to the great increase in home-nursing classes everywhere in Canada, and the great disappointment expressed by women that although the war had been on so many months, there had as yet been no call for their services.

AMBULANCE CORPS

In Vancouver Colonel Snell witnessed an interesting demonstration by the ambulance corps, carried out an inspection of about 400 men, women, and children in the St. John Ambulance Association marchpast, and saw a demonstration of air-raid precaution work. In Victoria on Monday night he will be the guest of the association at a dinner in Spencer's dining-room, and immediately afterwards will carry out an inspection and witness a demonstration of St. John Ambulance brigade work at the association headquarters.

Before he leaves the Island, he will pay a visit to Duncan and Nanaimo to see what is being done by the St. John Ambulance Association there.

"Pick up and GO"

WITH NEW CHAMPION Spark Plugs!

EVERYONE KNOWS that old, worn-out or inferior quality spark plugs, or those that have had 10,000 miles or more service, greatly impair engine performance and economy. But because deterioration is gradual, and hence not always noticed—millions of motorists depend on Change Week to remind them that a new set of Champion Spark Plugs definitely restores lost power, speed, economy and dependability.

Your Champion Spark Plug dealer renders special spark plug service this week. Checking and cleaning will reveal where new spark plugs are necessary to restore lost "pick up and go."

Demand Champions, if new spark plugs are needed, because they make every engine a better performing engine; because they are the spark plugs champions use; because they alone have the leakproof qualities so necessary in today's high compression engines. Pick up and go to your Champion Spark Plug dealer NOW, because you can depend on him to put new "pick up and go" in your car.

NAMSOS EVACUATED

Following their relinquishment of a foothold on the Norwegian coast south of Trondhjem, Allied troops have now evacuated Namsos, some hundred miles to the north. This indicates abandonment of the initial plans to meet the German invasion. The abandonment has been brought about by the rapidity and strength of the enemy's advance, and by his overwhelming superiority in air power. The Germans acted quickly and very thoroughly, and have achieved immediate results. They did so at considerable cost, chiefly to their sea power, but they are relying on their air strength to counteract whatever their losses have been. At the moment they are in possession of the bulk of Norway. They have shot and bombed their way out from Central Europe. In doing so they have become more vulnerable, but the problem for the Allies is that their advance northwards has only been retarded, not checked.

It is the German plan of campaign to drive the Allies out of Norway. Within the last forty-eight hours a spokesman for the German Government said this task would be accomplished within ten days. Mr. Chamberlain, in telling of the withdrawal of the Allied force from Andalsnes, said that there was no intention of allowing Norway to become merely a sideshow, but "the Allies must not disperse or tie up their forces so as to weaken freedom of action in the vital emergencies which may at any moment arise." This was said in relation to the possibility of the enemy invading Holland or Belgium, or engaging in an adventure in the Balkans. The future of Allied policy in Norway remains obscure, and it seems at present that the magnitude of the effort to be made in that theatre will be dependent on what happens elsewhere. There is no doubt that the long range plan of the German High Command is to open up new battle fronts by further aggression. It is upon this belief that the long term strategy of the Allies is based.

STILL NO MIRACLE

The difference between promise and performance was well illustrated this week in the efforts of the Mayor of Vancouver to fulfill an oft-repeated boast that he knew not one but several men who could lay down gasoline in Vancouver at a fraction of the cost of the present trading price. When the test came, the Mayor was not successful; nor, had he been, would the price have been much different from what it is at present.

Session after session of the Legislature has been regaled with assertions intended to show that gasoline could be secured for sale in British Columbia, at prices as low as 6 cents a gallon, or less than one-quarter of the announced trading level. Well, this week the barriers were removed. His Worship was invited to go ahead, and assured that a licence to import and to sell would be forthcoming from the Province. Not only was there no gasoline, but it was announced that if any had been secured it would have cost 23 cents a gallon, wholesale, laid down in Vancouver.

On that basis, what the Mayor of Vancouver did succeed in proving is that not one, but several, men who had assured him that gasoline could be obtained for 6 cents a gallon were quite badly mistaken; and that the laid-down price under his own arrangements would have been 2 cents a gallon higher than the present wholesale price fixed by governmental order at Vancouver. It is another instance of the fact that any one may think of a miracle, but it is a different matter to produce one. No doubt His Worship will explain when the special session of the Legislature opens on Wednesday; or could it be that the days of miracles are over?

U.S.A. FEELING THE PINCH

Dr. George Glasgow, writing in The Contemporary Review, gives a British viewpoint of how the United States is faring, in an economic sense, as a result of the present War in Europe. "The interesting thing is," he says, "that the truth is so simple, and so obvious: namely, that individuals and nations can encompass their own welfare only by encompassing that of others, and yet they act on the contrary principle, with the certain result (known in advance) that they thereby can achieve only each other's ruin."

The writer then recalls that the United States, by acting as shopkeeper to Great Britain and her Allies in the first part of the Great War, (like a good shopkeeper granting credit to her solvent customers), made a vast amount of money. In 1913 the trade balance of the United States was $691,000,000. In 1916 it rose to $3,000,000,000. As much as $3,000,000,000 in gold and $2,000,000,000 in foreign bonds found their way to New York. The United States, says Dr. Glasgow, "was able to plant her cinemas throughout the British Isles and to insure that for at least a generation the profitable business of catering to the leisure recreation of the masses of the British people would almost wholly flow to American markets."

This was worldly wisdom, but it contained its nemesis. The bill for some $1,000,000,000 worth of goods bought in the United States (on credit) was destined not to be paid. "If," says Dr. Glasgow, "the shopkeeper American Government had not been so intoxicated by the dizzy fury of its roaring trade, it would have foreseen that such a bill could never be paid, except by a reversal of the dizziness aforesaid; by American acceptance from Britain of the corresponding volume of goods and services, which in its turn would have spelt a riot of prosperity for Britain. But America instead put up an unscalable barrier which prevented Great Britain from paying her debt in the only way in which such debts can be paid."

Dr. Glasgow then points to the sequel now being enacted. With the opening of another great war the American commercial interests have been casting about for the new openings it should foreshadow, but "the poetic mockery of a corrective Fate has inspired no less remarkable a reaction than the decision to reverse the former experience by an acceptance of the losses first, rather than last . . . If Britain wanted to buy things from America this time (as of course, so it was thought, she would) then she must pay in advance. The cash and carry system was thus solemnly instituted. The surprising thing is not that America lost the business, but that she did not foresee that she would lose it. To a Government such as the British Government, fighting for its life in a contest of starvation by rival blockade, it was obvious that its reserves of gold, foreign exchange and foreign securities would have to be retained to the grim last, and that therefore the British Government, now in control of Britain's entire trade, would cease to buy anything at all from the United States except aeroplanes; in other words, would cease to buy everything she could buy elsewhere. The United States mercantile interests, including the shipping lines and the tobacco growers of Virginia, are all feeling the pinch. It is to be feared that all neutral nations must suffer in varying degrees, and the longer the War lasts the greater will be their losses."

PHYSICAL STANDARDS

It is a sad commentary on the attitude of the Dominion Government towards the patriotism of the people that thousands of men have been seeking to enlist without knowledge of the physical requirements of service with the Navy, Army and Air Force. It is probably an underestimate to say that 50 per cent of those who want to serve have been rejected, and in thousands of instances the rejection has meant waste of time and money for those who have come over distances to recruiting offices. The physical standards required for war service in this country cannot be the same as those that prevail in Great Britain and France, for if that were the case there would not be so many rejections. In Great Britain, in the various classes called to the colors, the percentage of acceptances of those fit for overseas service is very high, over 80 per cent, and of the balance many are admitted to the Army for home duty.

In Canada the physical standards required, for naval, military and air purposes, should be made public and comparisons given with those that prevail in Great Britain and France. There has been what can only be described as an abnormal percentage of rejections of men who wish to serve in some capacity, to such an extent as would suggest that Canada has but a very limited number of those who can be classed in the A-1 category. This is wholly unlikely to be the case. If the conditions of life in a densely populated Great Britain are such that over 80 per cent of the youth are physically fit for war service, then, at least, there should be similar fitness in a country with the wide spaces and healthy climate of this Dominion. What are the physical standards for war service in Canada, and by whom were they made so rigid?

BULB INDUSTRY

Though the growth has been a gradual one, there is little doubt now that Vancouver Island has established some claim to the production of flower bulbs second to none in Canada. At present, as the growers state, the emphasis is being laid on foundation stocks of high quality, with relatively little effort made to reach out for a wider market. That will come in time, and when it does, the bulb industry may become a big thing here.

Saanich has a special interest in the case. Pioneer bulb farms have been operated in Saanich for many years, attracting more attention all the time. Elsewhere on Vancouver Island it is much the same story. Bit by bit a reputation is being built up for a Vancouver Island product, grown under exceptionally favorable climatic conditions.

What Holland is to Europe, southern areas on Vancouver Island may well become to Canada: the home of a bulb industry of established worth and ever growing proportions. Here, at least, the facts accord with the reputation, the association between Victoria and flowers being of long standing. In Garden Week, that is a comforting thought.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Steady does it, now. We cannot all be field generals. If it was a mistake for Germany to put herself at risk in Norway over a gap of from three to thirty miles of water, how much more of an error it might have been for the Allies to have done so over a gap of from 400 to 500 miles of water? The days are past when a thin red line of soldiers hangs on to a yard of shell-torn ground, or buys an enemy acre with 100,000 lives. This is obsolete. This is a fluid type of warfare, and the Allies have retained their power and ability to move. It is Germany who has stuck one fist on the tar baby, as time in its course will show.

Beyond that, however, we cannot all know the whole picture, see the whole play, appreciate each set of problems, and reach a masterly conclusion. Here, 7,000 miles away, we know very little indeed. A proportion of that little is definitely incorrect. It comes over the radio and in the press from sources we are fully entitled to question. Take German war pictures as one example. Who took them? Who released them? And why? Was it to help our side? It is the same with a proportion of the news from "independent" sources, sources sometimes independent of the truth.

Mind you, the Germans would be glad if we answered that one about "two hundred Canadians taken prisoners and sent by plane to Germany." Or that one about Private So-and-So of the "Pats," who was walking in Britain at the time. Among other things, they want to know where the Canadians and all other troops are. It would be too kind of us to tell them. It might, as "Geezil" would say, kill us to pieces. Ditto the Repulse, the Hood, the Renown, and every other ship in the Royal Navy. They would give a deal to know.

* * *

If we want to do a little back-seat driving, let us do it in our own favor, so that it will be no encouragement to the enemy. Patently Germany has lost much of her hitting strength at sea. Already the Allies are releasing fleet units which have been tied up a long time in northern waters. They will be of service to us elsewhere. Germany for the moment has lost her ore line. The annexed populations of Denmark and Norway are a liability as well as an asset to her, and the balance sheet has not yet been presented.

* * *

Look for a moment at the air. Some hundreds of German planes have been wiped out on the ground, which is a fairly complete way of wiping them out. Every plane demolished on its home airdrome saves us a fight in the air, costs the enemy a plane, and putatively saves one of our own, with its four or five lives. Leaflets may be prettier to watch in the air; but they are not so final. After fifteen raids an airdrome takes on all the resemblance of a garbage dump, and some German-held 'dromes have been raided that many times by night and day. Where the Royal Air Force has secured a footing to jump off from, it has come through in royal style. It always will.

If someone sidles up to you on the street and whispers we are ruined, take that with a grain of salt. Ask him, for instance, who he is fishing for? The plain fact of the matter is the Allies have made a reasonable beginning, and have conserved the whole of their hitting power. It is hitting strength, not orders-in-council, nor letters to the editor, that wins wars. Of course it would have made a dramatic show if we had thrown our Navy, our Air Force and Army in a series of thrilling motion picture episodes for no material gain. The radios then would have been crackling. "Independent" news sources would have been screaming about Allied victories. And they would have been wrong.

* * *

The real victories are slowly accruing today, most of them in those very items which speak most loudly of what some have been pleased to refer to as "defeat." It is the enemy who has lost ships, lost planes, lost men by scores of thousands, lost prestige, and whose morale already is having to be bolstered by a daily injection of lies. In the war upon nerves, it will not be Allied nerves that crack even though there are quite a few people who seemingly would like to have it so. So, steady does it. Leave something to the field generals. After all, they are on the spot and should know. Moreover, the results would sugest that they do.

It's no use telling a man on his uppers that hard luck can't last for ever. Neither can he.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of May 4, 1890)

Sons of St. George—The movement to institute in this city a lodge of the Sons of St. George has taken deep root considering the short time it has been before the public. An adjourned meeting was held last evening, at which fourteen members paid their entrance fees and there are as many more who have signed the application for a charter. The formal inauguration is fixed for Wednesday evening next at 7:30 o'clock sharp, in the Sir William Wallace Hall. The committee hope that not only those who have joined, and those who have signed the application, but all Englishmen interested will attend. The new lodge will be named "Milton," and the entrance fee is placed at a nominal charge.

Customs Returns—During the month of April the transactions in the Customs House at Westminster were as follows: The imports were valued at $21,706, upon which duty was collected to the amount of $5,279.38; other revenue, $62.65; total revenue for the month, $5,342.03. The value of exports were $1,507.83; increase in favor of 1890, $3,834.20.

Salmon Regulations—Inspector Mowatt has received word from the Department at Ottawa that the regulations recently issued have been amended so that the close season will be from 6 p.m., Saturday, till 6 p.m., Sunday, of each week. This is one of the changes the cannerymen have been contending for.

Can't Blame Hitler

A chubby young butcher who delivers meat for a Fairfield firm called on a Yates Street woman with the family ration of steak. On opening the door, the customer was startled to hear: "Ain't this gas war terrible?" She almost swooned, conjuring in her mind the atrocities of the Great War, and weakly murmured, "I knew Hitler would come to this." "Oh, it's worse than that," explained the up and coming bovine surgeon, "we can't get enough to run our cars" . . . Guests at the Empress Hotel were startled recently to see a visiting United States resident and his wife stroll into the lobby, fish out a bag of sandwiches and a thermos bottle, and calmly eat their lunch . . . Two members of the B.C. Women's Service Club in uniform were strolling along Johnson Street when they saw a man lying in the gutter. "He has been run over," said the first. "Let's render first aid," the second replied. The man regained consciousness as they stooped over his prostrate form. His muttered remarks convinced them that he was the victim of John Barleycorn. They fled. Bluecoats wafted him away to the bastile. The magistrate gave him twenty days in the cooler . . . Occasionally we meet a person who has been away from the Old Country for many years, yet speaks more perfect English than a recent arrival. We once knew an Englishman who had been in Canada for twenty years. To preserve his Oxford accent he practiced before a mirror nightly —G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

Today's big sport event is the running of sixty-sixth Kentucky Derby at the Louisville race track. On paper, Bimlech should win the lion's share of the purse without much trouble. However, if the track is muddy there will be plenty of opposition for "Bimmie." I am going out on the proverbial limb and pick Mioland to finish on top of the small field, with Bimlech second and Gallahadian in the show position . . . This afternoon's football match should attract a big crowd to the Athletic Park enclosure, with Victoria's entry in the Coast League clashing with Victoria West, first division champions, in a cup-tie battle. It will be a hard fought encounter but must give the decision to the Coast leaguers by two clear goals . . . Vancouver Maple Leafs got by Winnipeg basketballers comparatively easily after dropping the second game of the series, and therefore should return to the Coast with the Dominion crown tucked away in their baggage. The Leafs will now clash with Montreal for the honors won at the Willows last season by the Dominoes, the club which the provincial body suspended months ago for breaking regulations or something . . . I still like the Yankees and Dodgers to win the pennants in the American and National Leagues, respectively. When Di Maggio gets back in the New York line-up and the warm weather comes along the Yanks will start to roll and there'll be no stopping them then . . . On the Seattle golf line-up for today's match at Oak Bay links there will be Emil Sick, owner of the Seattle ball club in the Coast circuit.—J.D.

Noblesse Oblige

By J. McDONNELL,
President of the First Trust and Savings Bank of Pasadena

In this election year there is a yearning in the consciousness of millions of Americans that some prophet voice would show us how Nobleness may walk in our ways, and what the manly part that we may play, while war holds the world by the throat. For we are involved, whether we will or no, deeply, inevitably, not by reason of anything that we have done, or not done, not by our wisdom or unwisdom, but because the peace which has been broken in Europe and Asia and Africa is not something on a foreign map, but a property of civilization in which we have not only a vested interest, but a most intimate and sacred one. Wanton breakers of peace abroad are robbers of our patrimony and despoilers of our estate. What is in jeopardy is nothing other than our most cherished treasury of human rights and hopes, not to speak of our material prosperity. We are not today, in fact, at peace. Some of the major currents of our life are already affected, nay, directed by the exigencies of war.

The average American has ideals; these are not very articulate; he could not make a speech about them; but they are immeasurably higher than those for which the politician gives him credit; and the soul of the country is not satisfied with mere shrewish iteration of non-responsibility. Second thought mistrusts leadership which has no vocabulary of generosity. Is invariably depreciative in its judgments, wholly selfish in its appeal. The lofty ethical content of Edith Cavell's farewell, "Patriotism is not enough," certainly cannot be wrenched into meaning that neutralism is enough. A policy whose every aspect is summed up in avoidance will not suffice in a world that is on fire. Our hearts are not so cold that its glittering icy robe of false logic, with which our extremists are strait-jacketing their better natures, is a fit covering for us. The robe will expose us, and the logic fail us in the day of character, when dangerous duty must be faced. Who of us heard without a shrink the courtly, unreproachful words of Mannerheim over his dead that, "dying, made us rarer gifts than gold"? The great-hearted genius of the American people will not at long last take kindly to its bosom a safety that is mean; and surely our fearful and troubled legislators need not shield their aloofness under references to a "phony" war. Such words would ill be uttered within range of those who have wintered on the salt, unstable wilderness of the North Sea, where lie the drifting hearths of thousands of fisher and sailor dead, guardians now of the vaulted deeps below that remain so still everlastingly in an ancient and changeless cold.

We are not wiser than our time. We do not advocate plunging into the inferno; but we feel that we are like denizens of a city that has been overtaken by a conflagration, and that ominous winds are blowing. We are not called upon to don the fireman's uniform, nor wield an axe; but we are called upon to understand and not hamper the efforts of those who are fighting on the fire lines. Our own safety requires this much of us; for what is going on abroad is not a spectacle; it is the decision as to what kind of future we shall share. "It becomes a great nation to take great risks; to dare them is at once a sign and a property of greatness."

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

A CORRECTION

Sir,—May I correct an error which crept into your otherwise correct report of the recent annual meeting of the Provincial Branch of Lord's Day Alliance.

Your correspondent slipped up on the word "sensuous," and used the word "sensual." The sentence should therefore read: "If Sunday is used solely for a 'good time,' then we write ourselves down as satisfied with the sensuous." This, of course, has a much less offensive meaning, and I would appreciate the slight correction, since the implication is so different.

THE GASOLINE INDUSTRY

Sir,—May I ask for space in your columns to request others to state their opinions through the best media available for airing public opinions—the daily newspapers.

An attempt by the Government to control a major industry in this Province is important enough to require everyone to state an opinion.

The members attending the special session next week need the guidance of our opinions. We, the citizens of this Province, employ those men to operate our Government, while we get on with the business of making a living.

An industry or a business operating efficiently gains profit; profit means progress, good wages, good working conditions, and continual improvement in the products sold or manufactured for sale. No one can question the efficiency of operation of the oil companies in this Province in giving the greatest possible service to the public.

Lack of efficiency means waste. Does it sound reasonable for any government to take over an industry that it is not equipped to handle, how, or six months from now? The Province was not exactly showing a profit a short time ago when our Government raised its own wages!

Would our roads be improved a great deal by the profits the Government hopes to make out of the oil industry? Would any of us benefit by the loss of income to a good number of people in this Province at present employed in the oil industry?

Would our sons and daughters, on leaving school to seek employment, have us tell them that the knowledge they had gained from the teachers was not practical? Would we like to hear our son say he was going into some industry or business, but he did not expect to make more than a living since the rewards of initiative and ambition could not materialize in an industry operated without profit?

A. J. BAKER, Jr.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE

Sir,—One aspect of this unfortunate situation, as reported in yesterday's Colonist, appears to have escaped general attention. I refer to the fact that gasoline will be available for tourists without any restriction. I regard this as an intolerable position. I am a taxpayer and pay my small share of local taxation for the upkeep of the roads on which these tourists will be able to travel freely for pleasure, but I am debarred from doing so. Without the use of my car, I am unable to go to the nearest town to obtain supplies or to perform my religious duties.

Canada is at war—a war which may threaten her very existence as a nation. These tourists belong to a neutral nation. Can anyone imagine a parallel situation in England now in which say, Dutch tourists could obtain petrol which was not available to British citizens? I cannot personally.

It is a timeworn cliche to say that every country gets the government it deserves. It seems hardly credible that our sins of omission or commission should be so grave as to cause us to suffer the particular aberration of democracy under which we exist in British Columbia today.

CITY INSURANCE

Sir,—I notice in this morning's issue an article that reads as follows: "In a letter to the City Council, James A. Griffith, 724 Yates Street, complained that the 100 fire insurance agents here should have each received $10,000 in policies from the city. Mr. Griffith stated that his share of the business was only $3,300."

I honestly think that a man that would report an absolute falsehood about another man and have it published in the paper should be prosecuted. This article has not one word of truth in it, and is an absolute falsehood. The trouble with these people is that they are not big enough to come out and tell the truth.

The facts are: The city insurance department gave me $9,300 to write, and not $3,300, and furthermore, what I said was, that if there were 100 fire insurance agents paying taxes into the city of Victoria and each one was allotted an equal amount, they would have to get about $10,000 each.

I wish to state further, now that my name is brought into the paper; that Mr. J. A. Harrison asked me to send him a letter outlining the amount of taxes I paid last year and said he was allotting the city's insurance to insurance men, according to the amount of taxes they were paying. I told him in my letter that I paid $2,305, or about $200 a month. When I found that he had only given me $9,300, which is nothing more than a little $55 premium, and feeling that according to the amount of taxes that I was paying that I should have been allotted a larger amount, I called upon Mr. Harrison and told him that I did not consider that they had given me the amount of insurance that I was entitled to. I also told him that perhaps he would be better pleased if he gave this amount of insurance to some of his friends, as I was not cheap and his little $55 premium did not look good to me. These are the facts of the case.

THE EGG INDUSTRY

Sir,—If a relative newcomer to Vancouver Island is permitted the courtesy of your columns in the search for information, I shall be much obliged if some competent person will furnish some reliable data concerning the local egg industry.

First: Eggs seem to be graded according to size. Does grading include freshness? What is the definition of a fresh egg? I am told that eggs graded "A" are sold out of cold storage weeks, and even months, old. Does age not impair nutritional values?

Secondly: Is there any relation between currently low prices for eggs and the enormous stocks reportedly held in cold storage? And does the answer have any bearing on anticipated exports to the United Kingdom?

THREE KILLED WHEN OIL TANK BURSTS

PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y., May 3 (AP).—Explosion of a 125,000-gallon oil tank on the shore of Manhasset Bay killed three men, today, and injured three others, and shook buildings two miles away.

Killed in the explosion were: Harry Berg, thirty-nine, president of Berg Oils, Inc., owner of the tank; Henry Gates, twenty-three, Port Washington; and Marvin Chase, about thirty, New Rochelle, both employees of the firm.

According to Culbertson

"Dear Mr. Culbertson,—I get a great deal of pleasure in reading the hands in your column each day and the fact that my game has improved thereby was proved the other night in a rubber game when the following hand was dealt. I was South and became declarer at a small slam in clubs, which I made as follows:

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q J 6 5
♥ A 8 4
♦ A K 9 7 6
♣ 10

WEST
♠ 3 2
♥ K Q J 7 5
♦ Q J 4 3 2

EAST
♠ 10 9 8
♥ 10 3 2
♦ 10 5
♣ Q 8 6 5 4

SOUTH
♠ A K 7 4
♦ 8
♣ A K J 7 3 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	1 ♥	2 ♦	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

"The bidding was optimistic, but when the North hand went down the contract did not seem difficult. West opened the king of hearts, which was taken on the board with the ace, and the ace and king of diamonds led, on which I played my eight of diamonds and my last heart. The ten of clubs then was led and finessed and held the trick. A small spade was led from the board and taken with ace, and then the ace of clubs was led to feel out the trump situation, with West not following suit and giving the location of the remaining clubs. A small spade was led to the queen on the board, and a heart led from the board and trumped in the closed hand with the three of clubs. Another small spade was led from the South hand, and when West failed to follow, the contract was 'home,' the spade jack winning on the board and East had to follow suit. Another heart was led from the board and was trumped with the seven of clubs. The king of spades then was led and East was forced to trump and return a trump to South's king and jack, permitting South to win the last two tricks and make his doubled contract.

"A. R. S., New York."

All's well that ends well, and I am glad that my correspondent managed to fulfill his six club contract. I would be failing in my duty, however, if I refrained from pointing out that the bidding of the North-South hands left a great deal to be desired. The suit which should have become the final trump suit was not even mentioned by either partner. Six spades was the proper contract, and the bidding should have proceeded as follows:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	1 ♥	2 ♦	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	6 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

Usually it is correct to rebid a six card suit before mentioning a four-carder, but in this case South should see that the future course of bidding will be smoother if the spades are mentioned directly over North's diamonds. When South bids in this fashion North has plenty of values to make a cue bid in West's heart suit, showing first round heart control and strongly implying an excellent spade fit, since he made that cue bid, not after he had heard of South's clubs, but only after the spades had been mentioned. South, with four honor tricks, then would be fully justified in starting the 4-5 no trump convention to which North, holding two aces, would, of course, respond five no trump. South then would show his own strong preference for clubs, and North would overrule this by showing his overwhelming preference for spades.

Even with South rebidding three clubs, however, instead of two spades, the bidding could easily have been straightened out by North then coming in with the three spade bid instead of his less informative three no trump. It then would be South who supported the spades strongly, and, of course, the final contract would be the same, although it would be North instead of South who became the declarer.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

FLYING FISH IN HOT SPOT

U.S. Freighter Bears Marks Of Bullets on Superstructure

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The United States freighter Flying Fish, whose skipper and crew witnessed the German capture of Bergen, Norway, arrived home today.

Captain W. W. Wollaston, fifty, said in a broadcast interview that Bergen was crowded with ships when he arrived.

"When did you first learn that something was amiss?" he was asked.

"About 2:30 a.m. on April 9."

At that time, he stated, the harbor master ordered a blackout. The crew, he said, "stood things well," but the population of Bergen was bewildered.

He said they witnessed the sinking of a cruiser and a supply ship while they were tied at Bergen.

(Royal Air Force planes bombed and sank a German cruiser at Bergen, it was announced some time ago).

"What happened to your cargo?"

"We discharged it."

BULLET MARKS

The captain explained marks of bullets on part of the superstructure were made when "a fortress was firing on a plane."

An able seaman named Gilbert, a member of the crew, said the marks were the result of a British plane attacking the ship in error.

"We were lying at a dock in Bergen. The Germans had a cruiser and supply ship on the other side. They were attacked from the air by the British. That's how we got the bullet marks. We were hit by a British plane."

Gilbert said the ship was then moved four miles out. While lying there, he said, a British plane fired on them.

"I attribute it to the pilot's nervousness. He raked our decks. Fortunately he wasn't using incendiary bullets. He had been flying over the land dropping bombs and was evidently going home when he spotted us. So he swerved and came over us and let loose with the bullets."

The crew of the Flying Fish also reported that the American freighter Charles R. McCormick was caught in a spray of machine-gun fire that cut its mast stays and wire rigging.

The State Department recently instituted inquiries to determine the whereabouts of the Charles R. McCormick when the vessel's operators expressed concern over its failure to answer a cable ordering it home. The ship presumably sought shelter in a Norwegian fjord.

STORIES VARIED

There was considerable variance in the stories told by the Flying Fish's crew, but all hands agreed that the American ships were struck by accident.

No one on either the Charles R. McCormick or the Flying Fish was injured.

LONDON, May 3 (CP)—A British source said today that no report had been received of a British plane machine-gunning the United States freighter Flying Fish during an attack on the Norwegian port of Bergen and that "it is to be deeply regretted if it did occur."

"That area is a very hard place to be at the time of a Royal Air Force attack," this source said, adding that a burst of fire could have been turned on the Flying Fish by mistake in the heat of battle.

CAPTAIN DIED HERO'S DEATH

Master of Freighter Arlington Remained at His Station Until End

MIDLAND, Ont., May 3 (CP)—Captain Fred Burke died a hero's death when his ship, the Arlington, sank in a storm on Lake Superior Wednesday morning, The Canadian Press was told today by one of the sixteen surviving crew members.

"He stuck in the wheelhouse guiding the ship while the rest of us took to the lifeboats," said Francis (Fat) Swales, seventeen-year-old deckhand. "He couldn't have had much chance to save himself, for the ship went down within twenty minutes of the time I was roused from my berth to get to a boat."

Swales, first member of the crew who spoke to a newspaperman after the survivors were landed from the rescue vessel Collingwood, was on his first voyage.

"And it was my last," he said. "I never expected to see such weather as we encountered Tuesday night."

Ted Brodeur, another young hockey player who made his first voyage on the Arlington, thought the captain could have reached the lifeboat, but instead "waved to us from the wheelhouse, then walked to his cabin and closed the door."

"The captain ordered us to the boat while he stood at the wheelhouse door," Brodeur said. "When we were fifty yards from the ship, he took off his cap, waved to us and then walked into his cabin and closed the door."

Swales, sleeping in his berth, was awakened at 4.45 a.m., he said.

SANK QUICKLY

"The ship was listing badly," he recalled. "At five minutes after five o'clock she went down. Two minutes after we got into the only lifeboat we could launch, she had sunk completely, and we were sitting in the lurching boat—all sixteen of us—while the wind and snow swept about our heads."

Swales said the strong backs of the ship's hatches were bent by the storm, enabling water to get into her cargo of grain.

"If the cargo hadn't got wet, we'd have been aboard her yet," he declared.

The Arlington started to list to port to such an extent that the crew could put over only one starboard lifeboat. As the forward crew came back to the stern to take to the boat, waves washed over them and almost swept them from the icy deck. "She listed to port and keeled right over on her side," Swales said. "The stern went down a little and then she sank completely."

Seeks Permission To Extend Flying Route to Alaska

EDMONTON, Alta., May 3 (CP)—Grant McConachie, president of Yukon Southern Air Transport, announced today he plans to make application to the Canadian and United States Governments for permission to extend his air lines from Whitehorse, YT., to Fairbanks, Alaska.

An American company now is operating a light schedule between the two points. The Edmonton company will seek permission to operate over the same line, to increase the service provided between the two cities.

The extension would provide Edmonton with a through connection to the Alaska city.

LIMPED INTO HARBOR

SHEET HARBOR, N.S., May 3 (CP)—More than a week overdue from Gloucester, Mass., the 110-ton schooner Hamona limped into harbor here today.

Captain Ernest Chalk reported the ship's engine broke down during a gale in Cape Cod Bay April 22.

Lads Training Somewhere in England

Despite the worst Winter in years (see snow at left of picture), intensive training of recruits for the Royal Air Force was carried on without interruption. The above group is at one of the schools of technical training operated by the Royal Air Force. There are several of Captain Seymour-Biggs' boys in the group, including Kenneth Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Dawson, Haultain Street.

FISHING SEASON STARTS SUNDAY

Columbia River Packers' Price for Salmon Is Acceptable to Commercial Fishermen's Union

ASTORIA, Ore., May 3 (AP)—Lower Columbia River commercial fishermen accepted a packers' price offer today and prepared to open the salmon season at 6 p.m. Sunday.

A referendum of the Columbia River Fishermen's Protective Association favored the 12 1-2 cent a pound price, 472 to 310. A referendum early last week also approved the offer, but the vote was not recognized because several invalid ballots were discovered.

The necessity of a second referendum postponed the regular fishing season opening at noon May 1.

Judge—"Can't this case be settled out of court?"

Kelly—"Sure, that's what we were trying to do your Honor, when police interfered."

TRANSFERRED TO PORTLAND

General Agent of Northern Pacific Leaving at End Of Month

A. C. Stickley, general agent, passenger department of the Northern Pacific Railway for the past ten years in Victoria is leaving the city at the end of the month for Portland, Oregon, having been transferred to that point in the service of the company.

Mr. Stickley's transfer to the Oregon centre follows a decision made by the railway company early in the year to close its Victoria office, after having served the local traveling public for practically fifty years, and place its resident agent elsewhere.

The withdrawal of the railroad corporation from direct representation in the city mean (as they occupied the same premises) a rearrangement of the Puget Sound Navigation Company's plans for carrying on business, with the result that George Paulin and associates were appointed agents for the Black Ball Ferries in March last.

Mr. Paulin and associates will continue at the present address on Government Street, with Clyde Banfield, ticket agent under Mr. Stickley, continuing with the new set-up, which also includes an agreement whereby Northern Pacific tickets will be sold under the name and style of the Northern Pacific Travel Bureau.

DERAILMENT NOT SERIOUS

Engineer Receives Slight Cut When Engine and Cars Leave Track

PEMBROKE, Ont., May 3 (CP)—The engine and two cars of the Canadian National Railways transcontinental train were derailed when the train struck a washout at Kathmore, a flag station, twenty-eight miles west of Pembroke early today.

The train, the Transcontinental Limited, traveling between Montreal and Vancouver, was brought some twenty-eight miles east of Kathmore to Pembroke Junction and rerouted over Canadian Pacific Railway tracks and continued its journey west.

Extent of the damage was not known immediately.

Heavy rains during the night washed out a section of the track but Canadian National officials said the derailment was not very serious. Only known injury was a cut on the face of the engineer.

The derailment occurred about 2 a.m. and auxiliary trains were sent out from Pembroke during the morning to put the Limited back on the tracks.

Meantime the eastbound Transcontinental Limited was rerouted at North Bay, Ont., over Canadian Pacific lines to Pembroke in order to reach Ottawa, arriving in the capital several hours after its scheduled time of 6:30 a.m.

MONTREAL, May 3 (CP)—Canadian National Railways officials said no one was injured in the derailment early today of the westbound Transcontinental Limited in a washout at Kathmore, a flag station twenty-eight miles west of Pembroke, Ont.

The engine and two baggage cars left the rails, according to a company statement.

Vessel Released By British Prize Crew at Bermuda

BOSTON, May 3 (AP)—The Norwegian freighter Ozna, under charter to the Sprague Steamship Line of Boston, arrived today after having been released by a British prize crew at Bermuda.

The prize crew of six was put aboard by the cruiser Cornwall when the freighter was off the Brazilian coast while en route to Boston from South American ports, but was taken off after Norway joined the Allies against Germany.

Arrangement Made For Replacements Of British Ships

LONDON, May 3 (CP)—E. H. Watts, chairman of the British Steamship Company, told the annual meeting of stockholders today that a "fairly satisfactory" arrangement had been made with the Government for replacement of ships lost "in the country's service."

If a ship is lost by enemy action Watts said, the shipowner "recovers in cash its pre-war value and a further sum is placed to his credit in a fund available only for replacing vessels."

TWO DEAD IN CHINESE MELEE

Two Others Suffer Knife Wounds in Rotunda of Saskatchewan Hotel

SHAUNAVON, Sask., May 3 (CP).—Two Chinese were stabbed to death and two others suffered knife wounds during a melee in the rotunda of the Grand Hotel about 10 o'clock tonight, Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported.

Dead are Charles Mah Hop, about fifty, proprietor of the hotel, and Rudolph Mah Sai, about forty-five, manager of a bakery in this Southwestern Saskatchewan town.

Sam Mah, baker at the bakery, received a serious leg wound and a cut on one arm, while Mah Yok suffered a minor cut on the left hand.

Police said they are looking for Jack Toy, thirty-year-old Chinese, for questioning.

The stabbings took place just a day less than eight weeks after Sgt. A. J. Barker, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police here, was shot to death in the rotunda of the same hotel. Dick Greenlay, son of a rancher, awaits trial on a charge of murdering Sgt. Barker.

Details of how the fight began and just what took place were not immediately available.

Residents of suites just off the rotunda said they heard Chinese voices raised in what they took to be an argument, but they said this was quite a common thing and they paid no particular attention.

Dr. G. H. Morrison, who rushed to the hotel after the fight, found Mah Hop dying of a severed artery in the left arm. Mah Sai was dead when Dr. Morrison arrived, he said.

GOVERNMENT IS DEFENDED

we will endure and persist until the day of victory dawns."

The general feeling of the country, he declared, would "entirely support" the Prime Minister's determination to reveal nothing that might help the enemy.

SITUATION IN HAND

"We have the situation in hand and the Government is well prepared, at the first moment it is right to do so, to explain this whole situation frankly and fully to the British people, to whom they are responsible. You may dismiss from your minds the idea that this is going to be material for some exciting political controversy or combat.

"The British people are never likely to be cowed or frightened by facing serious facts. I am inviting you to face the facts as they are, fearlessly and plainly, and that is the only way in which the British people wish to deal with things.

"If we reflect upon the war during the last eight months we may draw from it these three lessons:

"Firstly, the enormous power of this instrument of war which Germany has been engaged in building up and perfecting over recent years and the remorseless skill with which it is used to trample down and reduce to subjection Germany's neutral neighbors and spread the area of German occupation.

NOT YET TRIED

"The German army has not yet found occasion to try its strength on level terms with the land forces of a great power, but the pace and precision with which it has advanced in Czecho-Slovakia, Poland and Denmark, and part of Norway, are remarkable proofs of its high organization and its power to thrust. It has never been a British shortcoming to belittle the quality of the enemy, and certainly the very first thing which we should recognize is this most formidable exhibition of German strength.

"At the same time, we may note that Hitler's Scandinavian adventure has led to such serious losses in the German navy that, as the Prime Minister said yesterday, 'whereas the strength of the Royal Navy has been little if at all affected, the injuries to the German navy have been so substantial as to alter the entire balance of naval power and to permit an important redistribution of the main Allied fleets.'

"Nevertheless, the first conclusion to be drawn from the first eight months of war before any main or crucial contest has been entered upon is that we have to meet and overthrow an opponent of enormous strength, organized and prepared to the last possible degree for the struggle.

UNPARALLELED UNITY

"The second point is the unparalleled unity and determination with which the British people and the British Commonwealth are meeting this challenge. This unity is no enforced and machine-made uniformity due to the dragooning of public opinion by the methods of Goebbels (Reich Propaganda Minister) or the Gestapo. It is the spontaneous and inevitable response of democratic communities who value liberty above every other earthly thing.

"No power on earth could have swept the decent, peaceable British race into the furnace of a great war save the compulsion of their own deliberate judgment that it must at all costs be undertaken.

"It would be ludicrous to suggest that the French peasant or the French mechanic is anxious to indulge in a war of aggression. This solid uprising of free peoples is the true measure of the character and wicked ambitions of the handful of men who are in control of Germany.

"The third point is the true character of the issue for which the war is being fought. This is a conflict in defence of ordinary human liberties, ordinary common rights which free peoples know are threatened.

"Trade unionists know that a victory of Hitlerism means the end of rights of the worker, and that freedom from false arrest and unlimited confinement are utterly inconsistent with the methods of Himmler and the Gestapo.

"Free speech, free meeting, free voting and the whole doctrine that 'a man's a man for a' that' are set at nought by the Nazi regime."

SPREAD OF WAR TO GREECE IS FEARED

Opinions varied as to whether the Italian move had been taken to counter the Allied naval operations and the emergency measures put into effect in Egypt yesterday, or whether it was planned first and precipitated the British - French action.

Defence preparations in Greece were pushed resolutely. These include the "Metaxas Line," constructed along the Albanian frontier in the north after Italy's occupation of Albania in April of last year.

But, even if Greece can rely on her "Metaxas Line" to the north, there is no such line of defence between her and the Dodecanese Islands.

PISTOL AT TURKEY'S SIDE

Turkish officials long have been outspoken in asserting they would like to see Italy out of the Dodecanese, where they regard her military establishment and her naval and air bases as a pistol held at Turkey's side.

Turks still regard Italy as the power most likely to attack them, even while fearful of a German sweep into the Balkans and suspicious of Russian designs on the Dardanelles. Officials say Turkey has not forgotten Italy's designs on sparsely-populated Anatolia and its great, undeveloped resources, and feels she still is desirous of more territory in that direction.

Today, in Instanbul, five Germans were arrested on suspicion of spying and propaganda-spreading.

TWENTY PLANES ARE DESTROYED

British raids and did not put up great resistance during the latest attack. Most of the buildings alongside the field were set on fire.

Although anti-aircraft fire was sharp at Fornebu, the British airmen caused considerable damage to hangars.

The first attack on the Ry base occurred at dusk and the second under cover of darkness. The first wave of bombers spotted twenty grounded machines and immediately dropped explosive and incendiary bombs in the direction of the planes and nearby buildings, and also on woods where German planes and equipment were possibly hidden.

MANY BUILDINGS BURN

A series of bombs exploded in the central part of the airdrome and set fire to two planes, it was said. Fire swept near the field and many of its buildings.

The second raid followed two hours later and lasted about thirty minutes, with the machines attacking from various heights. Two hits were registered in the northwest corner of the airfield and two heavy bombs burst just short of the main hangar. Opposition from ground defences was reported ineffective.

The crew of one British craft reported that while they were heading home, at a point about fifty miles from the field, they saw a tremendous flash of light from the direction of the base, apparently caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank or ammunition dump.

ARE CLEVER PERFORMERS

Pupils of Cloverdale School Delight More Than 500 Spectators at Concert

Students of Cloverdale School last night delighted more than 500 spectators with an exceptionally fine concert in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The programme featured vocal, choral and instrumental selections, and was highlighted by the performance of the marionette play, "Rip Van Winkle."

P. C. Routley, principal of the school, directed the play, which told the story of old Rip, his home troubles, his twenty years' sleep in the Kaatskill Mountains, and his return to the village of Falling Waters, where he was bewildered by the changes that had taken place. The play was given in two acts of three scenes each.

Remarkable thing about the performance was the fact that the school children made the clever marionettes, outfitted them and then operated the tiny figures, in addition to speaking the lines. Desmond Burdon-Murphy assisted Mr. Routley in instructing the youngsters in the art of puppetry.

A loudspeaker system brought the voices of the young actors clearly to the audience, and lighting and sound effects added a realistic touch. Scenery was also made by the pupils of the school.

TONETTE BAND

Both the tonette band, composed of almost forty pieces, which presented three varied numbers, and the boys' choir were under Mr. Burdon-Murphy's direction, while the massed choir was directed by Mr. Routley. Miss F. C. McConnell arranged the Grade III presentation of a rhythm band and solo by Muriel Michaud. May Hawkes also rendered a vocal solo, and Billy Graham played a piano solo.

Budding young actors and actresses who starred in the play were Harold Page, Bryce Holland, Ted Blakemore, Rachel Woodward, Billy Herkes, Douglas Burdge, Gladys Baxter, Trudy McGill, Bryce Holland, Peggy Hallam and Joan Saul.

Other students who assisted in the production were Gladys Baxter, Joyce Pendray, Eleanor Leslie-Melville, Shirley Wood, Jim and Douglas Burdge, Creighton Milligan and Wilfred Johnson.

LEAVE NAMSOS IN HAIL OF BOMBS

aircraft guns, heavy artillery and stacks of ammunition.

They had no means of getting the heavy equipment aboard the transports, he explained, because the big cranes which unloaded them had been blasted to pieces by the German bombers.

BOARD BY LAUNCHES

The docks at Namsos also had been leveled, forcing the Allies to scurry down steep, rocky cliffs to board launches for the trip to the transports.

Some of the heavy pieces close to the water's edge were pushed in, and the firing mechanism of the others was smashed.

Here and there beside the big guns were piles of smaller arms, although the troops loaded much equipment of this type.

At Narvik, the Arctic ore port which the Allies have ringed—some 300 miles north of Namsos—the British and French apparently, expect reinforcements, preliminaty to starting a push from three directions on the town. German forces still are holding out at Narvik, and are reported in some advices to be showing signs of offensive action in an effort to break the siege.

ACTIVE NEAR NARVIK

German bombers also have penetrated now to the Narvik area, and are described as active.

The bomb-pocked streets of Namsos were filled all Thursday with troops marching to the docks, said correspondents who got their stories across the border only today.

They were taken out to six troopships, guarded by destroyers, which lay at anchor in the fjord.

"A German bomb dropped near one destroyer, killed thirty and wounded sixty," claimed one Swedish correspondent.

Advices coming across the border tonight indicated Narvik now is the chief area of combat, and there was speculation that the Namsos troops may be headed for there.

Besides the British and French troops at Narvik, there may be some British patrols at Tromsoe, 125 miles further north.

Baptists in Poland Lose Many Schools

LONDON, May 3. Definite information has reached the Baptist World Alliance regarding recent developments in Poland. The German-speaking Baptist Union has been dissolved and has now become part of the Baptist Union of Germany. The comparatively few Slav Baptist churches in German-occupied territory are likewise associated with the Baptist Union of Germany. The Preachers' School in Lodz, whose students were German-speaking and Slav-speaking (i.e., Polish and Russian) has ceased to exist, and the Hamburg seminary is to receive Slav students.

In the Russian-occupied territory, though heroic efforts are still made in certain localities to maintain the work, it is utterly disorganized and apparently on the way to complete suppression. An orphanage and an old peoples' home have been seized, and church buildings are generally confiscated.

Letters from German-speaking Baptists received in foreign countries state that in the German-occupied section of Poland the churches are free to carry on their work, which doubtless means that the authorities treat them precisely as Baptists are treated in Germany.

Nurses' Graduation Lovely Ceremony

LITERALLY hedged in by flowers, forty-one nurses of the Jubilee Hospital training class of 1940 made a memorably attractive picture on Thursday evening at the annual graduation exercises at the Royal Victoria Theatre, which was crowded with friends. At the moment when the above picture was taken, Edwin Tomlin, president of the hospital board of directors, was delivering his annual address, being followed a few minutes later by the guest-speaker of the evening, Mayor Andrew McGavin, who is shown immediately to the left of Mr. Tomlin. Others in the front row, reading from left to right, are: J. Vaughan Roberts, honorary treasurer; W. S. Day, who presented the Robert S. and Patricia Day Memorial Scholarship; Dr. F. W. Walker, superintendent of the hospital; Miss L. Mitchell, director of nursing; S. J. Drake, of the training school committee; and Rev. J. L. W. McLean, who delivered the invocation. The flowers carried by the nurses were donated by the training school.

Worry Saps The Nervous System

Worry over business or household duties, sudden shock, the insane quest for pleasure, the foolish attempt to put a week of normal life into twenty-four hours, feverish activity, the demand for sensational literature are all conducive to the aggravation of wear and tear on the nervous system.

If you are tired, listless, nervous, and worried why not give Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills a chance to help put you on your feet again. They are a body building, nerve strengthening tonic containing the essential elements for the nervous system.

SCHUBERT CLUB MUCH ENJOYED

Choir of Women's Voices Gives Programme at Centennial United Church

A delightful programme, which reached the climax of its appeal in a group of negro spirituals and the two closing numbers, was given at Centennial United Church last night by the Schubert Club under the direction of Frederic King. In response to the thanks expressed on behalf of the audience by the pastor, Rev. Andrew D. Reid, the conductor spoke of the enjoyment the choir had experienced in presenting the concert, and specially thanked the two accompanists, Mrs. Pierre Timp, pianist, and Mrs. Green, the organist, as well as the members of the Imperial (Male) Quartette.

The choir's selections were chosen with nice discrimination, opening numbers being two Schubert compositions, "Hark, Hark the Lark" and "Who Is Sylvia?" Later they sang, always with nicely-controlled tone and good phrasing, Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," Harriett Ware's "Trees," Schubert's "Great Is Jehovah" (Janet Swetham singing the solo part), Proctor's "Drowsily Come the Sheep," Wood's "Music When Soft Voices Die," the spirituals, "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen," and "Listen to the Lambs" (with both organ and piano accompaniment, Miss Nimmo singing the solo), and the closing numbers Scott's "Minor and Major" and Del Riggo's "Homing" (also with organ and piano).

MALE QUARTETTE

The Male Quartette was very popular, showing a good sense of fun as well as keen singing ability, in "I Love a Parade" (Arlen), "Stout-Hearted Men" (Romberg), Gibson's unaccompanied "The Little Red Drum," and "I Love a Lassie." There was resonance and good attack in "Hymn Before Action," and pleasing tone in "Down in Yon Summer Vale."

Each of the other numbers was given a good reception. Elinor Swain in "Thank God for a Garden" and "Song of the Robin"; Grace Hamp in "Kerry Dance" and "False Prophet"; and Eileen Brown (contralto), in "Pale Moon" and "Can't Remember"; and organ solos, "Air Meer" (Schubert) and "Offertoire" (Batiste) by Mrs. Paul Green. Ruth Rawtinheimer also assisted as accompanist.

GARAGEMEN OF COMOX PROTEST

Association Says Four-Cent Margin on Gasoline Makes Operation Impossible

COURTENAY, May 3 (CP) — The Comox District Garagemen's Association today protested to Premier T. D. Pattullo against the new price-fixing order of the Provincial Fuel Board limiting retailers to a 4-cent spread above wholesale prices in gasoline sales.

The text of the telegram follows: "Average volume daily sales and hours of service to public retailing gasoline renders it impossible to operate at new margin of 4 cents without loss under Minimum Wage and Hours of Work Act. Strongly protest reduction of spread affecting retailers."

The telegram was sent to Mr. Pattullo and Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Provincial Fuel Board which yesterday issued new price-fixing regulations.

Pictures of Great Charm Seen at Show

Visitors to the Royal Oak Flower Show on Wednesday were much interested in the decorative still-life and flower arrangements, which took the form of picture panels, showing great originality and charm. Among those which received special notice was "Old Ivory," where against a background of palest lavender hung a tiny silver holder of wisteria, a living picture of delicate mauve flowers in an ivory frame.

A fine carved ivory fan and an exquisite bowl of pastel-tinted tulips completed the picture. "Easter Bonnet," an exhibit modern in design, showed a tiny real-flowered hat, a bandbox and a spray of dogwood against a clear Wedgwood background. "Springtime" was true to its title in a lovely arrangement of marigolds, tulips and feathery sprays of white broom against a pale green background.

ANOTHER DISPLAY

Another display was a Mexican scarf and Italian jug with marigolds, named "South of the Border," while another study of a diaphanous black fan, a lace shawl, Victorian bouquet and gloves, called "1834," was a charming representation of old England. One exquisite study almost perfect in composition and tone, was called "The Goddess of Heavenly Pool." Here China lent its beauty to a little scene against a burnished gold background, hung with a black and white temple scroll. In the foreground was the "pool," overhung by a variegated miniature maple. The goddess, a beautiful little figurine, dominated the scene.

"Anemones," a study in brilliant hues; "The Philosopher," in which a large green china frog contemplated the scene of a bowl of lilac against a deep green background; "Kenya Calling," a study in orange red and brown tulips, whose colors accented the tones of native raffia work and carving; "The Treasure of the Orient," created by the grouping of bronze berberis in an Oriental vase against an Indian brass tray, and in the foreground a turquoise green necklace in a greenish mother-of-pearl shell, were among the noteworthy exhibits.

In addition, there were a number of interpretive "pictures"—which showed originality and distinction. The Royal Oak Women's Institute and those directly responsible for the arrangement of the "pictures" received many congratulations on the success of the undertaking.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 4 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until 12 noon; from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m.; from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

Unless you make an effort to prevent, them doing so, your principal characteristics are apt to be very pronounced today and may be made the subject of some comment. Apparently it is going to be a day conducive to make many people unduly inquisitive. Evasive replies are only apt to lead to many additional questions, so it might save time and patience to give straightforward answers, or a blunt refusal to answer distasteful inquiries. It might be well not to try to force anyone to do anything against their will, for the only result that is apt to be achieved is an unpleasant exhibition of temper. There are due to be an exceptionally large number of temptations to spend money today, so restrain any inclination you might have to spend money on the spur of the moment without considering if it is something you really want or need. The more effort you expend trying to help people today, the less chance there is of it being appreciated, so make sure that your services are wanted before offering them gratuitously. Married and engaged couples, as well as those enthusiastically making love, might find it helpful to remember: "All creeds and opinions are nothing but the mere result of chance and temperament"; so there should be no arguments over them.

If a woman and May 4 is your birthday, you are persistent, cautious and patient, unless angered; then your temper is liable to flare up in a startling manner. You are apt to be very affectionate and loyal to those you love. You ought to be fond of social life, and as a hostess be envied by your friends, for you have more than likely a gift for doing things in a distinctive way and in a manner that makes the shyest guest feel completely at ease. Among the careers in which you might be most successful are those of teaching, writing, business management, or professional entertaining. You ought to be able to make the man you marry your devoted slave and most ardent admirer.

The child born on May 4 has generally a good ear for music, a gift for mimicry—and histrionic talent. Readiness of wit, and a genial disposition, should be among this youngster's greatest assets.

If a man and May 4 is your natal day, never live within the confines of a limited circle, permit yourself to get into a rut, or limit your understanding to one side of any controversy, if you have the ambition to be regarded as a man of the world. Your achievements as an architect, engineer, dentist, educator, theatrical producer, actor, doctor, lawyer, politician, sales representative, inventor, or manufacturer, may gain you favorable publicity and a fine income.

Retirement Occasion of Presentation

The home of Mrs. H. E. Young, widow of Dr. H. E. Young, former Provincial health officer, 1208 Oliver Street, was the scene of a farewell party recently, when associates, friends and members of the Provincial Board of Health met to pay honor to Captain Frank DeGrey, who is retiring after more than thirty years as sanitary inspector for the Province.

Assisting Mrs. Young in receiving the guests was Mrs. G. F. Amyot, wife of the recently-appointed Provincial health officer. As the guests entered the drawing-room they drew for partners, and soon well-known couples as "Jack Benny and Mary Livingstone," "Maggie and Jiggs," etc., were hilariously greeting each other. During the evening several interesting contests tried the wits of the assembled company, the winners being Miss Thelma Thompson, Miss Alison Chrow and Mr. R. Bowering, the latter being Captain DeGrey's successor.

Following the contests, an amusing play was given, with Dr. J. S. Cull, Mrs. Mary George, Miss Helen Parker, George Todd and Percy Weston taking their parts in quite professional style. Later, three short moving pictures, with sound, were greatly enjoyed, these being shown through the courtesy of Mr. Douglas S. Scott, of Scott Camera Craft, who kindly set up and ran the machines. Mr. J. D. B. Scott proved an energetic programme manager, while Mrs. Young awarded the prizes to the contest winners, and carnation boutonnieres to the cast of the play.

PRESENTATION MADE

Prior to supper, Dr. Amyot spoke of the good-fellowship and feeling of co-operation that has always existed between Captain DeGrey and officials of the Provincial Board of Health, Provincial Police and other departments. He expressed to Captain DeGrey the good wishes of the assembled guests, and hoped that he would enjoy his well-earned rest. Dr. Amyot then presented Captain DeGrey with a handsome bookcase, a book and a lamp, on behalf of his associates, as well as a special gift from the Young family, with whom he and Mrs. DeGrey have had such friendly relations for so many years. Miss Alison Chrow then presented Mrs. DeGrey with a beautiful arm bouquet of rose-pink antirrhinum.

After supper, which was served by Miss Alison Chrow, assisted by Mrs. Esson Young and Miss Mary Young, the members linked hands around Captain and Mrs. DeGrey and brought the evening to a close with the hearty singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." During the evening many letters and telegrams, addressed to Captain DeGrey, and expressing the appreciation and good wishes of the writers, were read.

INVITED GUESTS

The invited guests included Captain and Mrs. Frank DeGrey, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Cull, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. B. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Esson Young, Mr. and Mrs. G. Page, Mr. and Mrs. P. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kermode, Inspector and Mrs. Robert Owens, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. French, Mesdames Mary George, Claire Scott, V. White, K. Gardening Enthusiasts Take Part in Discussion

Hatley Park will be open to Garden Festival Week visitors this morning and this afternoon, and tours have also been arranged which will take the enthusiasts to the gardens of Mr. J. N. Hatch, Barkley Street; Mr. J. G. Worth, King George Terrace; Mr. E. D. Todd, Island Road, and Mr. G. M. Lynes, Island Round, each of which has its own particular charm and distinctive planning.

This evening in the Princess Louise room of the Empress Hotel, pictures of Victoria gardens in color will be shown by Mr. Douglas S. Scott, and this will be another interesting feature of the educational and entertaining programme which has been of great interest to the out-of-town gardeners, as well as the local garden lovers.

The brilliant sunshine yesterday made the gardens particularly lovely and it was opportune that the tours should have been to the gardens bordering on the sea, for Oak Bay, Ten-Mile Point, the adjacent islands and Mount Baker, white against the brilliant blue sky, made an unforgettable picture. In all the gardens seen yesterday, the visitors were impressed with the natural loveliness of the settings and with what skill the owners had contrived to blend weathered rock, shrubberies and woods with lawns and flower borders, which are now full of brilliant bloom.

DINNER FORUM

Nearly 100 persons attended the dinner forum last evening in the Duke of Kent room, arranged by the Empress Hotel management, Mr. Alan Morkill, president of the Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Society, as chairman. The dinner was preceded by a competition in which the visitors tested their knowledge of flowers by making lists of those contained in a number of bouquets.

Mr. Cark Atarker, Portland, authority on heathers and Alpine species, gave a short talk, and Mr. W. H. Warren, president of the Victoria Horticultural Society, spoke on "Flowering Cherries." Dr. W. P. Walker gave an interesting talk on the cultivation of lilies, describing his experiments. Open discussion followed the remarks of each speaker, and interesting views were exchanged by those whose hobby is gardening and whose interest and pleasure lies in the cultivation of growing things.

Culminating the series of special events arranged in honor of Jubilee Hospital Graduation Class of 1940 was the delightful dance given by the board of directors at the Nurses' Home, Richmond Road, last evening. Practically all the graduates attended, with their escorts, and in their crisp white uniforms, each wearing a corsage bouquet of red and white flowers, they composed an animated group, being welcomed on arrival by the hospital superintendent, Dr. T. W. Walker, and Mrs. Walker; Miss Lena Mitchell, director of nursing; Mr. Edwin Tomlin, president of the board of directors, and Mrs. Tomlin; practically all other members of the board and their wives, and a number of the doctors and their wives. Choir of First United Church Gives Oratorio

On Sunday afternoon, May 12, at 3 o'clock, the First United Church Choir will present selections from Handel's oratorio "Solomon" in the church auditorium. This work was given here three years ago and contains some of Handel's most attractive writing.

The original edition of this masterpiece is rather long. J. Michael Diack, a well-known British conductor and musical authority, published an edition containing the most popular solos and choruses which take place within an hour's performance. This edition is widely used by many choir leaders and will be used by the First United Church Choir. The soloists are members of the choir and will be announced in due course. W. C. Fyfe will conduct.

No admission charge will be made, but a collection will be taken on behalf of the organ fund of the church.

St. Joseph's Alumnae Tea Is Enjoyable

The lovely view across the Strait and Mount Baker was much admired and added to the enjoyment of the silver tea held at the lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Fowler, 50 Sylvan Lane, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the St. Joseph's Alumnae. The warm weather afforded the visitors the opportunity of enjoying the sunshine on the spacious veranda, from where an excellent view of the Mainland and Oak Bay could be seen.

Mrs. Fowler was assisted in receiving the guests, numbering over 150, by Mrs. E. E. Corbett, the president and general convener, and at the door receiving the money was Mrs. J. Maltman. A gratifying sum was realized, to be used by the alumnae in its hospital work.

Mauve lilac was banked against the fireplace in the reception room and fragrant Spring flowers were used effectively about the rooms. The lace-covered tea table had a handsome centrepiece of yellow and bronze tulips and blue iris, and at either end yellow tapers glowed in silver holders. Bowls of antirrhinum harmonized with the tea table arrangements. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns throughout the afternoon were Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mrs. Frank Sehl, Mrs. G. F. Aylward and Mrs. D. Markham. The refreshments committee, Mrs. C. Rose, Mrs. E. Gandy and Mrs. Welch, with members of the alumnae, assisted in serving.

Mrs. E. McGregor won the luncheon-set, and Mrs. Hartnell the ham, the contests being in charge of Mrs. George Straith and Mrs. Reginald Hayward, Jr.

Other members of the general committee assisting Mrs. Corbett in the success of the affair were Mrs. J. Grant, Mrs. C. Lewis and Miss G. Smith.

"Mother, what suit shall I put on this morning."

"Your brown one, sonny. Why?"

"Well, mother, it won't be big enough, will it?"

E. Snell, C.M.G., director of ambulance for St. John Ambulance Association, on Monday.

The total strength of the brigade in Victoria is approximately 150, with further vacancies still available to men holding St. John certificates in first aid.

YOUNG PEOPLE PRESENT PLAY

"Safety First" Is Given in Aid of Solarium W.A. Sewing Work

A three-act comedy, "Safety First," presented last evening in the Bishop Cridge Memorial Hall by the Young People's Branch of the Church of Our Lord, Free Church of England, in aid of the Solarium W.A., met with spontaneous response from the audience, which fully appreciated the Irish humor and amusing incidents of the play.

The play was well directed by Mr. P. M. Shandley, who during the intermission spoke on the work of the Solarium W.A., which has a membership of nine women, who do all the sewing of the clothes for the children at the Solarium.

Particular mention should be made of the scenery and lighting, which was under the direction of the stage manager, Rod Clack. In the final scene, Mrs. Barrington-Bridger's garden, a professional touch was accomplished in the realistic effect of the garden and flowers.

CLEAR DICTION

Good timing by the actors made the play run smoothly, and all artists had clear diction. Connie Lindner, as Mary Ann, the maid, received praise for her Irish brogue, as also did Les Wheeldon as officer McNutt. Margaret Chinn, who took the feminine lead as Mabel Montgomery, wife of Jack Montgomery, played by Reginald Atwell, had the difficult task of taking the dramatic parts during the humorous events.

Reginald Atwell, as Jack Montgomery, and Frank Dunn, as Jerry Arnold, both were well cast, and the players were given splendid support by Jack Davey, as Elmer Flanne; Irma Dakers, as Virginia Bridger; Rod Dunn, as Abou Ben Mocha; Phyllis Mugford, as Zulleka, and Gladys Goodman, as Mrs. Barrington-Bridger.

The prompter was Peggy Murray and the assistants were Hugh Lyle and Clifford Joyce.

Dance Held by Victoria High School Alumni

Another of the V.H.S. Alumni Association popular dances held at the Crystal Garden was attended last night by close to 300 dancers. The latest music was played by a well-known Victoria five-piece orchestra until 1 a.m.

Guests during the evening were members of the Alumni junior Canadian football team, who were successful in carrying off the city championship.

Victor Dale, team captain, presented the handsome trophy to Ben Duckworth, president of the association.

Mr. Duckworth said that the association was keenly interested in sporting activities of the city, and hoped they would be able to purchase a chest in the near future to keep the winning trophy.

The committee in charge of the successful affair were William Hole, chairman, Jack Valo and Donald Hughes.

EXPLAINS FIFTH COMMANDMENT

Evening Topic at First Baptist Is "Something Worse Than Death"

Continuing a course of sermons on the Ten Commandments at First Baptist Church, Rev. G. A. Reynolds will tomorrow morning preach on the fifth of these, "Honor Thy Father and They Mother." In the evening the the subject of his address will be "Something Worse Than Death."

Following the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed.

Everlasting Punishment To Be Topic

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden-text is: "The way of the Lord is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity." (Proverbs x, 29).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live." (Romans vii, 13).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Hatred, envy, dishonesty, fear, and so forth, make a man sick, and neither material medicine nor Mind can help him permanently, even in body, unless it makes him better mentally, and so delivers him from his destroyers. The basic error is mortal mind."

CHRISTIAN YOUTH FEDERATION URGED

TORONTO, May 3.—Formation in Canada of a Christian Youth federation, to embrace Christian youth of all denominations, is being urged in church circles here. Purpose of such an organization is said to be "in order that the Christian youth of our country may exert to the full the effort required to effect the social, economic, and political changes that appear necessary."

The youth movement known as the "Canadian Youth Congress," already in existence, is out of favor in some quarters of the Anglican, Presbyterian, and United churches.

A resolution passed by the Anglican Young People's Association and approved by the executive of the church's general board of religious education severs "any connection the A.Y.P.A. may have had with the Canadian Youth Congress."

The resolution states that while some local councils are doing good work and are worthy of support, "in other districts the reverse is the case." Individual members are free to retain membership, but in their own right only.

United and Presbyterian church young people's societies have never been affiliated with the congress, it is stated by official leaders of young people's work in the two churches.

WILL CO-OPERATE IN SOCIAL WORK

TORONTO, May 3.—Following the recent resignation of Dr. C. E. Silcox from secretaryship of the Christian Social Council of Canada, arrangements have been made for carrying on its work as adequately as possible under wartime conditions.

Closer co-operation among the supporting units of the council will be forthcoming. The social service departments of the four larger communions, with the Society of Friends, the Salvation Army, the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A., are determined to maintain a vigorous inter-church council. During recent years the social service departmental work of the churches has increased and has been winning its way more and more in the mind of the churches.

The churches realize the necessity in the field of social reform of co-operative effort, and never before in modern times has there been a more determined understanding on their part to realize that the gospel is relevant to the organized relationships of society.

HAND BOUQUET TO GOVERNMENT

Oak Bay Conservatives Commend Provincial Authorities on Settlement

The attitude of the Provincial Government was commended in the settlement of the gas dispute by the Oak Bay Provincial Conservative Association, which met on Thursday evening.

Concern was expressed over the Provincial Elections Act which was passed at the last session of the Legislature. It was felt that Sections 19 and 20 would undoubtedly result in many citizens, particularly those who duties take them away from home, losing their franchise.

Under these sections, it is stated that citizens must be at home when the canvasser calls, to insure their names being placed on the voters list.

WANT ACTION

It was decided to bring the matter to the attention of the Provincial Secretary and to request the Conservative members of the House to raise the question when the Legislature convenes, so that something might be done before the next election.

The meeting solicited information concerning a recent, paid appointment to the Air Raids Precaution organization.

It was decided to hold a picnic during August and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements, which will be discussed at the next meeting, to be held in St. Mary's Hall on Tuesday, June 4, at 8 p.m.

A social evening, provided by Captain R. S. Johnson, C.B.E., concluded the evening. Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown was in the chair.

Lieut.-Commander Barclay was also a nephew of Paul Cornwall, Vancouver.

Whatever is Ailing You? You're Not Yourself at All

It is almost uncanny how quickly a wife can detect any thing wrong with her husband's health. And how worried she is until he does something about it.

When it is a question of trouble with the nerves she can usually give him sound advice for most women know about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food from personal experience.

Few ailments, if any, get a man down so badly as disorders of the nerves because mind as well as body is usually affected. Worry and sleeplessness waste the nerve force in the body. Digestion is usually upset, bodily organs slow up for lack of motive power and he feels gloomy, discouraged and despondent. Life is robbed of its pleasures, efficiency is lowered and a nervous collapse is threatened.

But long before such a condition is reached the wife detects trouble and if she is persistent in recommending Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can usually halt the disorder, for this treatment greatly helps to restore the nervous system.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies in condensed and easily assimilated form the ingredients from which nature creates new, rich blood and nerve force. In this way it instils new pep and energy into the nervous system and the body generally. Every organ, every part of the body must naturally be benefited by the flow of new, rich blood through the arteries and a full supply of new nerve force through the spinal column, the nerve centres and the myriad of nerve fibres which go to the uttermost parts of the body.

When you decide to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food do not go at it in a half-hearted manner. You should buy at least half a dozen boxes to begin with and then take the medicine regularly and persistently until health and vigor and the joy of living are fully restored.

Boston Triumphs to Gain Top Position; Bees Defeat Cards

Red Sox Nose Out St. Louis to Move Ahead of Idle Cleveland Club—Boston Nationals Win Second Game—Yanks Hit Hard for Victory

BOSTON, May 3 (AP).—The long-range slugging of Jim Tabor gave Boston Red Sox a 9-8 victory over St. Louis Browns, and hoisted the Sox past the idle Cleveland Indians into first place of the American Baseball League.

Tabor's second homer tied the score in the ninth and his single, with the bases loaded in the tenth brought in Ted Williams with the winning run.

Manager Joe Cronin and Williams also clouted homers, and Walter Judnich put the Browns in the ball game in the seventh, hitting his fourth circuit-drive of the season, with two mates on base.

YANKS TRIM SOX

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—World Champion New York Yankees came to life with a vengeance today, clubbing Edgar Smith and Clint Brown for nine hits—including homers by "Red" Rolfe, George Selkirk and Charlie Keller—to take the first game of a two-game American Baseball League series with Chicago White Sox, 8-4.

Joe Kuhel, of Chicago, homered with two men on base in the ninth.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (AP).—Veteran Bill Posedel not only hurled seven-hit ball today, but he sparked a six-inning rally which gave Boston Bees their second National Baseball League victory of the season, a 4-2 conquest over St. Louis Cardinals.

The Bees' big righthander doubled in the sixth inning to start a three-run rally that clinched the game.

For a time it looked as though Lon Warneke would be the first Cardinal to go the route this season, but five hits off him in the fatal sixth was curtains. Three of the Bees stole bases in that frame. Buddy Hassett scored and Tony Cuccinello reached second on a double steal, and Les Scarsella later pilfered second.

Seattle scored four runs in the fifth inning and another in the eighth to go 8-5 ahead, but in the last of the eighth Portland got two aboard and Ed Coleman poled the ball out of the park after two were out to tie the score.

Edmonton Grads Face Vancouver Cagers Tonight

EDMONTON, May 3 (CP).—Edmonton Grads, never beaten in any Canadian women's senior basketball play-off series since 1922, will meet Vancouver Westerns here tomorrow night in the first game of a best-of-five series for the Dominion "A" crown.

Grads, who retire on June 6 following exhibition series with two United States teams, finished training for the series with six blistering ten-minute periods against Boy Grads on Thursday night.

Supporters of the Albertans were heartened by their return to shooting form. The usually accurate Grads had been away off in their throwing all Spring. On Thursday Grads scored on thirty-one of seventy-nine tries for an average of 40 per cent.

The Vancouver squad, winners of the senior "B" championship by defeating Edmonton Gradettes, three games to one, in a series at the Coast city, were expected to arrive here tomorrow morning and go through a light drill later in the day.

FINAL SERIES START MAY 8

Western Cagers Going After Thirteenth Win Against Montreal Lads

MONTREAL, May 3 (CP).—Montreal Y.M.H.A., Eastern Canada senior basketball champions, who meet Vancouver Maple Leafs in the Dominion final starting here May 8, will be playing for a cup that was donated by a group of Montreal sportsmen but never once won by a Montreal team.

Known as the Montreal Cup, the trophy was put up for competition in 1926. Since then it has been held twelve times by Western teams and only twice by teams in the Eastern section.

Both times an Eastern team won the Dominion final, it was a squad from Windsor, Ont., that gained the honor. In 1928, Windsor Alumni won the trophy and Windsor Fords repeated in 1936. Ottawa Rideaus won the East-West play-off the year it was inaugurated but that was in 1925— a year before the cup was put up for competition.

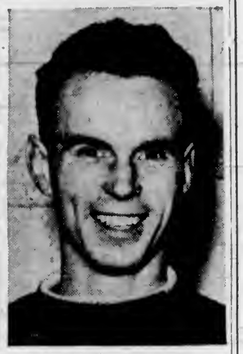

University of British Columbia and Winnipeg Toilers each have held the trophy three times while Victoria Blue Ribbons won it twice, Victoria Dominoes once, and Vancouver Westerns, Vancouver Province and New Westminster Adanacs once each. Dominoes were champions last year.

The Y.M.H.A., who will meet Vancouver in a best-of-five series, present a strong line-up in their attempt to bring the cup to Montreal for the first time.

Will See Action Today

BOBBY BELL (Victoria United)

JACK OKELL (Victoria West)

VICTORIA'S pace-setting Pacific Coast Football League eleven and Victoria West, Victoria and District League champions and holders of the Jackson Cup, will meet this afternoon at Royal Athletic Pork, in a Province Cup match. Considerable interest is being displayed by local soccer followers, and indications point to a good turnout. The game will mark the first appearance this season of the Pacific Coast League club in local competition, and opinions as to the outcome are greatly divided. Greenshirts defeated the City, 2-1, Wednesday, to take the coveted Jackson Cup, and their supporters feel confident they can take today's encounter. Bobby Bell plays fullback for the Coast League team, and Jack Okell holds down the inside right berth for the greenshirts. They will see action in this afternoon's cup battle. The kick-off is set for 3 o'clock. Victoria West line-up follows: T. Restell, Murray, Embrey, Travis, Smith, C. Restell, Cooper, R. Okell, Williams, J. Okell, Munroe, Kitching, Dallimore, Duncan and Gornall.

CALGARY REGIMENT LEADS IN CANADA

CALGARY, May 3 (CP).—A team of seven sharp-eyed rifle shots from the Calgary Regiment (tank), non-permanent active militia, have proved themselves the best marksmen in their class in Canada, according to word just received by Lieut.-Colonel W. K. Jull, M.C., V.D., officer commanding the unit.

Competing against almost forty picked teams from militia units, police forces and civilian rifle clubs across Canada, the local team has led the field in a Dominion marksmen competition for small-bore Lee-Enfield rifles on the twenty-five-yard indoor range.

The team scored 1,456 points out of a possible 1,500. The second place was taken by a team from R.C.M.P. headquarters in Ottawa who were thirty-six points behind wth 1,420.

This afternoon, on the waters of Coal Harbor, the local scullers will get their first test of competitive rowing when they face the starter in the annual Fullerton Trophy race. BUDDY BAER STOPS MANN

Rallies in Seventh Round to Score Technical Kayo In Garden

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—Buddy Baer, of Sacramento, Cal., won by a technical knockout over Nathan Mann, of New Haven, Conn., after 1:36 of the seventh round in their scheduled twelve-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Baer weighed 249, and Mann 188.

The end came with dramatic abruptness after six rounds in which the lighter Mann held his own and carried the fight to the apathetic and logey Baer.

Leaping from his stool at the start of the seventh, Baer rushed across the ring and began to belabor Mann with a series of long vicious rights and lefts.

A right under the heart put Mann down for a nine count. He arose groggy and bleeding, but fought back gamely, but mammoth Baer scented the kill and followed his opponent around the ring, pouring in volleys of punishment from all directions.

Again Mann went down for a nine and when he arose, his face a gory smear, he dazedly turned his back and started for his corner. Referee Arthur Donovan walked over to Baer and hoisted his hand as the winner.

NOT IMPRESSIVE

With the exception of a brief flurry in the first round when he had Mann in a bad way, Baer was anything but the spirit of victory. He appeared clumsy, used his right hand, injured in his last bout, timidly, and relied on his great weight advantage and reach to keep Mann in check.

Mann, on the other hand, carried the fight continuously to his opponent. Working from a bobbing crouch, the game New Haven veteran would leap to the attack, landing one or two blows to Baer's jaw before Buddy could drape his huge body over the shoulder of his tormenter.

Baer took the first two rounds on The Associated Press score sheet, with Mann taking the next three and Baer the sixth by virtue of a brief flurry midway of the round.

It was Baer's first bout since he injured his right hand in defeating Lee Savold several months ago and the victory puts him at least in the background of the championship picture.

The show drew 5,154 fans, who paid a total of $11,311.

BIMELECH REMAINS HEAVY CHOICE FOR WIN AT LOUISVILLE

Col. Bradley's Horse Still Quoted at 2 to 5 on Eve Of Sixty-Sixth Running of Kentucky Classic —Purse of $60,675 Will Go to the Winner —More Than 80,000 Expected at Park

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP).—Everything looked made to order for big boy Bimelech tonight.

A field of nine was named for tomorrow's sixty-sixth running of the Kentucky Derby and Old Man Weather promised to turn off his frost and rain faucets for the big doings.

Derby town was on its usual jampacked Derby-eve merry-go-round, accompanied by the customary musical comedy didoes in every hotel lobby.

With sun and fair weather on tap, it was conceivable that the turnout might skyrocket over 80,000. The Derby field is slated to go to the post around 3:45 p.m., M.S.T., to the tune of "My Old Kentucky Home," sung by the movie actress, Irene Dunne.

It was cold tonight and the track was slow, but the dirty grey sky sent a few rays of sunshine down late this afternoon and the weather man said he'd fix it up just dandy for the folks in general and Bimelech in particular tomorrow.

AFTER FIFTH VICTORY

If he does his stuff and provides a fast running strip, it will just make the whole mile-and-a-quarter affair more lopsided for Bimmie, who is trying for a fifth Derby victory for Colonel E. R. Bradley and who probably will be the shortest-priced favorite in the history of the classic. If he wins (which just about everybody fully expects) he'll collect $60,675 as the winner's end in a nine-horse race.

In the overnight field entered today—at least seven are positive starters—Bimelech is likely to have opposition only if the track is "off." With the exception of Arnold Hanger's Dit, the standouts are the slopsteppers, such as William L. Brawn's Pictor; Royal Man, owned by Harold S. Clark; Joseph E. Widener's Roman, never beaten in mud, and Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Gallahadion.

MAY BE THREATS

On a fast track the threats are Dit and Mioland. The other two in the field are Sirocco, owned by Charles T. Fisher, of the Fisher Body Fishers, and the "wonder why" colt, True Star, a yearling sales purchase for $550, representing the barn of Martin J. Schmidtt, a local lawyer. True Star was a surprise entry this morning.

Sirocco will go to the post only if the track is fast. Few expect Schmidtt will go through with starting his horse.

One of the mysteries around this Derby-daffy town was whether Colonel Bradley, aged and ailing, would come over from Lexington to see the races. The colonel would like nothing better, but his physicians have advised against it, fearing the shock of victory or defeat may harm him, may possibly prove fatal.

The field, with post positions, jockeys and probable odds, in the order named, follows:

Bimelech (2), Freddie Smith, 2-5.

Dit (7), Buddy Haas, 8-1.

Pictor (9), George Woolf, 8-1.

Mioland (3), Lester Balaski, 12-1.

Gallahadion (1), Carroll Bierman, 15-1.

Roman (5), Kenneth McCombs, 20-1.

Royal Man (8), Johnny Gilbert, 20-1.

Sirocco (6), no boy, 50-1.

True Star (4), Douglas West, 100-.

ANGOTT GAINS FIGHT VERDICT

Scores Decision Over Davey Day for N.B.A. Lightweight Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3 (AP).—Setting a fearful pace all the way, Sammy Angott left-hooked his way to a decision victory over Davey Day tonight to win what the National Boxing Association has called its version of the world's lightweight championship. Angott weighed 134½ and Day 134.

Before a crowd of about 9,000 who turned out for this Kentucky Derby eve brawl, the sweet little slugger from Louisville and Washington, Pa., piled up a decisive margin in the first six rounds and, although tiring down the stretch, kept whacking away to take the sole verdict of Referee-Judge Jack Dempsey.

Dempsey called six rounds in favor of Angott, five for the slim, round-shouldered plodder from Chicago and four even. The Associated Press score card called nine rounds for Angott and six for Day in a fast-moving slashing struggle.

GODIVA WINS ENGLISH RACE

E. Harmsworth's Horse Captures One Thousand Guineas Event

NEWMARKET, Eng., May 3 (CP).—Edmond Harmsworth's Godiva, a 10 to 1 chance ridden by the apprentice jockey, D. Marks, today won the classic One Thousand Guineas, defeating the 11 to 8 favorite, Viscount Astor's Golden Penny, by five lengths.

Sir Malcolm McAlpine's Allure, 10 to 1, was third by another four lengths in the field of eleven. Godiva, a bay filly by Hyperion from Carpet Slipper, covered the mile distance in 1:40 3-5.

Supporters of Golden Penny, the season's outstanding filly and a big Derby hope, were shocked when Godiva, after chasing Lord Astor's Drawing Prize until halfway, dashed in front and set the pace to the winning post.

YANKEES RECALL MILLS

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—Colonel "Buster" Mills, right-handed outfielder, who has had big league trials with St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Red Sox, Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Browns, today was recalled by New York Yankees of the American Baseball League. He was a member of the champions' Newark farm team.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Jim Bridger, Famous Scout—Jim Bridger (1804-81), the greatest scout of the Rocky Mountains, did not eat bread for seventeen years. He exchanged a yoke of oxen, worth $125, for a volume of Shakespeare, and then hired a wagon boy at $40 per month to read it to him. He could see a column of smoke fifty miles away without a spyglass, never lost his bearings either on the plains or on the mountains. His hair turned completely white in a few hours in 1832, when he was pursued by a band of Blackfeet Indians in the Big Sandy Valley west of South Pass, and lost both his horse and his rifle. He discovered the Great Salt Lake in 1824, and the South Pass in 1827.

Glasgow Rangers And Dundee Side Meet for Trophy

Light Blues Strong Favorites to Capture Scottish Wartime Cup From Second Division Eleven at Hampden Park Today—50,000 Expected At Match—English Matches Are Set

LONDON, May 3 (CP).—Glasgow Rangers are such strong favorites for the Scottish Football League's Wartime Cup that advance bookings indicate the crowd at Hampden Park, Glasgow, will not exceed 50,000 when the famous Light Blues clash with Dundee United on Saturday in the final of the competition.

Cup soccer also holds the spotlight in England. Thirty-two teams battle in the first of home-and-home games in the second round of the English Cup tournament. With so many clubs participating in cup matches, regional group schedules will be cut considerably.

Although Dundee United has made a strong bid for cup honors, the Second Division squad is not expected to provide serious opposition for the Rangers, beaten only three times in group competition this season. Hampden Park has accommodation for approximately 150,000 spectators, but under wartime restrictions only half this number are allowed admittance.

Rangers' notable career has been marked by ten successes in peacetime cup competition, but Dundee United has never won the coveted trophy. On its road to the final the United disposed of Partick Thistle, Third Lanark, Kilmarnock and Airdrie, while Rangers were victorious over Alloa, Falkirk, St. Mirren and Motherwell.

NOT OVER-CONFIDENT

But the Rangers are not over-confident, although Dundee's diminutive forwards have an average height of only five feet, five inches. What they lack in physique is made up in skill and their scoring power has been convincing in previous cup games.

The teams are expected to play at full strength, with the veteran J. Smith at centre forward for the Light Blues. He is at the top of his form and the chances are W. Thornton will fill the inside right position. Thornton has been chosen to lead Scotland's attack against England at Glasgow, May 11.

The probable teams:

Rangers—Goal, Dawson; backs, Gray, Shaw; halfbacks, McKillop, Woodburn, Brown; forwards, McPherson, Thornton, Smith, Venters, Little.

Dundee United—Goal, Thomson; backs, Miller, Dunsmore; halfbacks, Baxter, Littlejohn, Robertson; forwards, Glenn, Gardiner, Milne, Adamson, Fraser.

FACES EVERTON

Rochdale, doughty conqueror of Bury in first-round cup play, opposes Everton in one of the feature matches in England. Following their elimination of Liverpool, Barrow's players meet Stoke City.

Wolverhampton Wanderers, among the cup favorites, are pitted against Coventry City, while Arsenal clashes with Crystal Palace, whose defeat of Tottenham Hotspurs was one of the first round features.

WILL REVIEW LIVING COSTS

Prof. G. E. Britnell to Head Commission Under Miners' Agreement

OTTAWA, May 3 (CP).—Labor Minister Norman McLarty tonight announced the appointment of Professor George E. Britnell, of the department of political science in the University of Saskatchewan as chairman of the commission to review periodically any increases in cost of living throughout Alberta and British Columbia coal mining areas.

The minister said that by this appointment the Government thereby gives its approval to the agreement under which the commission is appointed.

Other members of the commission are Garfield Graham, of Nanaimo, Alta., who will represent the United Mine Workers of America in District 18, and Clement Stubbs, of Calgary, who represents the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, nominated by the employees and the employers, respectively.

AGREED ON TERMS

The agreement represents the result of negotiations between the employers and employees in which the Federal coal administrator participated. Both employers and employees agreed on the terms of the agreement before the Government nominated the chairman.

Terms of the agreement broadly provide that there will be no increase in basic wages as a result of the war, and any increase shall be by way of bonus. The board shall determine the amount of the increased cost of living, but from any increased cost of living will be deducted the amount by which such increase is accountable by added Dominion taxation owing to war conditions, and the amount of such increase by reason of war taxation will be deducted from any wage bonus.

BASIS OF AWARDS

The matter of increased cost of living shall be considered by the board each four months, but there will be no bonus unless the increased cost of living amounts to 5 per cent. The bonus will be paid on a flat basis, namely the smallest wage earner will receive the same bonus as the largest wage earner of the various companies.

"It is thought that a general adoption of the principles involved in this agreement will prevent the spiral condition that existed during the last war, and will at the same time be fair to both employees and employers during the existence of the war," Mr. McLarty said.

ILLOGICAL AND ABSURD

MONTREAL, May 3 (CP).—Mr. Justice Joseph Archambault, in a Superior Court judgment today, labelled as "illogical and absurd" the provision of the Collective Labor Agreement, which gives to an ordinary laborer a higher wage than to the more skilled workman engaged in landscape gardening.

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE The unusual spectacle of Marlene Dietrich rolling her own cigarettes is presented in Universal's "Destry Rides Again," which ends today at Atlas Theatre. For her return to the screen in the unusual role of a frontier entertainer, Miss Dietrich spent several days perfecting the difficult art of rolling cigarettes.

CADET THEATRE "Four Feathers," which ends today at the Cadet Theatre, is the story of the young English officer who resigns his commission because he knows that he is a coward, that he could not stand war. He is branded a coward by his friends in his regiment—who send him white feathers—and is rebuffed by his fiancee. To retrieve his honor and reputation he sets out for Egypt, where Kitchener is embarking on the Sudan campaign.

CAPITOL THEATRE Daphne Du Maurier's "Rebecca," one of the best pictures of this or any other year, opened at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. Directed by Alfred Hitchcock, "Rebecca" boasts a novel plot and is made all the more enjoyable by the brilliant acting of Joan Fontaine and Laurence Olivier.

DOMINION THEATRE Teaming for the first time Fred Astaire and Eleanor Powell, world's greatest male and feminine tap dancers, "Broadway Melody of 1940," is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. The story is a sprightly, human story of two male dancers in a ballroom who attract the attention of a Broadway producer.

OAK BAY THEATRE The romance between a fiery gypsy girl and a struggling poet in medieval Paris forms one of the story threads of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which ends today at the Oak Bay Theatre, starring Charles Laughton in the title role. Maureen O'Hara, the Irish discovery, and Edmond O'Brien, a brilliant young stage actor, have the romantic leads.

PLAZA THEATRE Seaside suicide proves to be murder and Inspector Hornleigh is plunged into an exciting crime chase at the expense of his well-earned vacation. Gordon Harker is Hornleigh and Alastair Sim is his assistant, in "Inspector Hornleigh on Holiday." Twentieth Century-Fox film, which ends today at the Plaza Theatre.

RIO THEATRE Tex Ritter, star of Monogram's "Where the Buffalo Roam," which ends today at the Rio Theatre, has covered all of the Middle West and South in personal appearance tours. Dorothy Short, who plays opposite Tex Ritter, came to Hollywood as the result of a beauty contest, and for six months was on the weekly payroll of a major studio without making a single picture.

REACTION IS RESTRAINED

London Papers Waiting for Tuesday's Session Before Voicing Criticism

LONDON, May 4 (CP).—The Allied withdrawal from Namsos in Norway was the No. 1 story in the morning papers today but reports of the Allied fleet's arrival at Alexandria drew almost as much prominence.

The Daily Express was the only morning newspaper really to spread the Namsos story and that, apparently, was because its reporter, Frank Muto, remained behind in Norway to describe the withdrawal.

Except for The Daily Mail and The Daily Herald, editorial reaction was restrained. The papers evidently, like many Britons, are prepared to wait until Tuesday's critical session of the House of Commons before passing judgment.

BITTER ATTACK

The Daily Express devoted its editorial criticism to censorship in the Norwegian campaign. The Daily Herald bitterly attacked Prime Minister Chamberlain, and warned that the efforts to rescue Europe from Hitler "will not be impeded by the inertia and complacency of the present British Government."

The Daily Mail condemned the "muddle and red tape" which it blamed for the withdrawals in Norway.

On the other hand, The Times' editorial theme was the foreign reaction to the Allied move. It pointed out that in every war early successes always go to the aggressor, and the final victory goes to the belligerent with the greatest "staying" power.

"So far from having in any way weakened the British staying power, the partial failure in Norway certainly has steeled the nation to a greater effort," said The Times.

TELEGRAPH MORALIZES

The Daily Telegraph moralized that character is shown in truer fashion not so much by failures, as the way people face the consequences of them, and said that Britons will confirm the truth of that reflection "by their undaunted reaction to the reverse which the Allied forces sustained."

Under the tile "It Must Not Happen Again," The News Chronicle emphasized the necessity for adequate preparations for activities in any future theatre of war.

The Daily Express spread the Muto story under a big headline, "I Watched the British Leave Namsos."

The newspaper said the person who took the story from Muto over the telephone in Stockholm could hear the raiding planes over the village from which the correspondent was calling.

Ralph Hewins, of The Daily Mail, recounted the Nazi raid on Namsos on April 30 when a few British anti-aircraft gunners worked amid a rain of bombs until their weapons were fouled.

RENDERED UNTENABLE

That attack, he said, rendered it untenable as a base. The quays and warehouses were obliterated like the rest of the town. The Spring thaw turned the two roads from Namsos into quagmires.

The News Chronicle political writer reported that criticism of the Cabinet was gaining strength among members of the House of Commons. Among the questions they will ask next week, he said, were: Why the Government kept only a small force in reserve for Scandinavia although according to the Prime Minister the Cabinet knew German troops and transports were accumulating in the Baltic? Why the Cabinet did not authorize a bold naval attack on Trondhjem within two days of the German invasion? Why the Ministry of Information allowed misleading neutral reports to pass? Whether the intelligence service was faulty in not discovering the clandestine shipment of German troops to Norwegian key ports?

PARALYZED BY DELAY

The diplomatic correspondent of The Daily Herald charged that the Allied campaign in Norway "from beginning to end . . . was paralyzed by delays, by hesitation, by infirmity of purpose and by inability to make decision."

"If simultaneously with land attacks from Namsos and Andalsnes we had forced our way into Trondhjem Fjord, if we had bombed the German garrison from the air, if we had done all this at once we should have had heavy losses but we should quite probably have won," the correspondent said. "Our punch was pulled so that it became hardly a slap."

ENEMY PROPAGANDA BLAMED FOR TALES

MONTREAL, May 3 (CP).—Enemy propaganda is responsible for stories that the French are ill-treating refugees, Lord Marley, Deputy Speaker of the House of Lords, told the Montreal Branch of the Canadian National Committee on Refugees today.

France has spent 1,000,000,000 francs for Spanish refugees since the civil war in Spain, and in the new budget was "putting aside $70,000,000 for a continuation of the work among the unfortunate who had fled their native countries."

PRISONERS DEBARKED

LONDON, May 3 (CP).—Forty-two Germans taken prisoners in Norwegian operations were debarked from a Norwegian steamship in a Scottish port today. Six of them wore the uniforms of airmen and the others were in civilian clothes.

Mighty Glad to Get the Business

TORONTO, May 3 (CP).—Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, today said the agreement reached by British newspaper interests to import about 200,000 tons of newsprint from Canadian mills is a "welcome help but no great uplift to the industry."

"We have available surplus machinery to supply about eight times that amount immediately," said the minister. "But we are mighty glad to get the business."

SPOKANE SINGER HIGHLY PRAISED

Victoria Entries Take Second Place In Two Contests at Vancouver Musical Festival

VANCOUVER, May 3 (CP).—"I should like to express my sincere gratification on the exhibit of this singer. His work in this contest has been above praise," said John Goss, distinguished British adjudicator, awarding a grading of 90, to James Goodsell, Spokane, Wash., at the British Columbia Musical Festival here this afternoon.

Mr. Goodsell chose for the selection to win such unstinted commendation, the aria "Sie Ahnen Die Wahrheit," from Glinka's opera, "A Life for the Czar." The class being No. 75, operatic solos for male voices.

VICTORIA MAN SECOND

Next in merit came Sidney J. Chiverall, Victoria, who received 85 marks, for his own choice of the song, "Vision Fugitive," from Massenet's opera, "Herodiade."

Final competitions for the piano duet resulted in the award of first place to Esme Brown and Irene Gibson in Class 107, with a marking in the aggregate of 168. Second place fell to Marie Vowles and Dorothy Craig, Victoria, who tied with Ian McKerrell Russell and John P. Brendon, with 167 marks. All competitors will receive certificates.

Evelyn Harper, Victoria, was third with 85 marks in the Arthur Benjamin silver salver competition for Beethoven students.

OIL DISPUTE IS PARTLY SETTLED

Consolidated Oil Company Reaches Agreement With Mexican Government

WASHINGTON, May 3 (CP). — A partial settlement of the long and bitter dispute over Mexico's seizure of American oil lands was reported tonight from Mexico City and the report seemed to be confirmed by developments here.

Dispatches from Mexico City said the Consolidated Oil Company (Sinclair) had reached a settlement with the Mexican Government.

The Sinclair properties were among the British and American lands expropriated on March 18, 1938.

In State Department circles it was said that regardless of the reported settlement with Sinclair, the diplomatic controversy with Mexico would be continued.

"SWINGING AROUND THE CIRCLE"

Used popularly with reference to a national tour made by a political candidate, usually for the presidency or vice-presidency—or by the man in office—to defend or gain support for his programme or policy, this phrase is generally credited to Andrew Johnson, who, starting out as a Tennessee tailor, on the death of Lincoln, became the seventeenth president of the United States.

While there is reason to believe that Johnson used the line while running for the governorship of the Hog and Hominy State in 1855, the first famous occasion upon his reconstruction tour in March, 1866, repeating it thereafter, at various times, in public addresses.

Johnson did not originate the colloquialism; it was apparently an old Tennessee political figure of speech which he liked and to which he imparted national circulation.

FILM PRODUCER HAS REACHED THE COAST

VANCOUVER, May 3 (CP). — Michael Powell, British film producer, arrived in Vancouver today in the course of a Canadian tour to study locales for a new motion picture to be partly produced in Canada.

Mr. Powell, accompanied by the author, his associate producer and film editor, will go to Victoria shortly to continue his survey.

He was director of the motion pictures "The Lion Has Wings" and "U-Boat 29."

BOTH INTERESTED IN SWEDISH NEUTRALITY

MOSCOW, May 3 (CP-Havas).—Tass, Soviet News Agency, said tonight Germany and Russia have decided maintenance of Swedish neutrality is in their common interest.

An understanding to this effect was reached two weeks ago at Moscow, Tass said, under terms of the German-Soviet non-aggression pact of last Summer.

Rapidly Shifting Trends Seen in New York Mart

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—It was a swing-high swing-low stock market today with war influences providing the motivation for rapidly shifting trends.

The list nose-dived in the forenoon but on a sudden rebound reduced losses running to 2 or more points or transformed them into gains of as much.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks, despite the rebound finished off .1 of a point at 49.8. Of issues traded, 321 ended on the offside, 295 were up and 228 unchanged. Transfers expanded to 1,070,750 shares from 645,420 the day before. It was the first million-share day since April 19.

Steels and motors led the morning slump and were among the first to revive. Ending with plus marks were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont, Consolidated Edison, Baldwin Locomotive, International Paper, Crown Zellerbach, Rayonier and American-Hawaiian Steamship.

Chrysler was down 1 1-4 as some disappointment was shown over failure of directors to declare a larger dividend.

Italian and Norwegian bonds dropped 2 to 7 points today as uneasy holders viewed with fresh alarm the Allied evacuation of Southern Norway.

Norway 4 1-2's lost 7 1-2 at 24 on the sale of a total of 11 bonds, and Italian credit 7's yielded 4 1-4 at 50 on sale of 4.

WHEAT FUTURES REGISTER GAINS

WINNIPEG, May 3 (CP).—Nervous covering and absence of selling pressure due to increased tension in Europe brought appreciable gains to wheat futures prices at Winnipeg today.

Final quotations were 1-2 to 7-8 cent higher, with May wheat at 89 1-8, July 91 and October 93 1-8 cents a bushel.

Moderate support in the pit from export interests indicated an overseas business of around 500,000 bushels in Canadian wheat.

Chicago advanced 1 3-8 to 1 5-8 cents, while Buenos Aires gained small amounts.

A jump of 3 to 1 5-8 cents in rye prices featured coarse grain trading. Only odd lots of cash wheat changed hands, although exporters showed an interest in No. 2 Northern, and shippers appeared willing to take Nos. 3 and 4 Northern and No. 5 wheat.

That Body of Yours

by JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

TESTING THE STRENGTH OF YOUR HEART

It is interesting to see the difference between an older or experienced boxer and a beginner, not only in the ring but during the physical examination before the bout. The heart rate of the old or experienced boxer is usually slow and regular, beating perhaps just 66 to the minute which is increased, after light exercise, to 84. In the beginner the heart beat may be 84 before light exercise and 96 to 108 after exercise. The heart rate of the experienced boxer will be back to normal in one-half to a minute after the exercise, and that of the beginner may require from one to two minutes to get back to normal.

While in many cases this slowness of heart rate and quick return to normal after exercise in the experienced boxer is due to a stronger heart, in most cases it is the nervousness of the beginner that increases his heart rate and the length of time required to return to normal. This fact is even more noticeable in taking blood pressure, the blood pressure of beginners or nervous individuals is often 10 to 20 points above normal just before the reading is made.

Notwithstanding these facts, the test of the strength of the heart in an athlete, soldier, or average individual is usually estimated by this simple test.

The heart rate is taken with the individual standing easily but squarely on both feet. He is then instructed to jog (stationery run) fifty steps at the rate of two steps a second, one hundred and twenty to the minute (double-mark time it is sometimes called). The heart rate is then taken and he is instructed to stand in an "easy" position for two minutes. If heart rate is back to normal at the end of two minutes, it is considered a "good" heart, and capable of withstanding athletics or war efforts.

When the heart is rapid before exercise, it will usually be back two minutes after exercise to the rate at which it was before exercise, that is, if it is just nervousness that is causing the increased rate. In fact, in many cases it will be lower two minutes after exercise than it was just before the exercise. This is a good sign in that it shows that exercise is not only safe but that exercise, taken regularly, will help to "slow down" the rate of the heart beat.

You can try this simple test of your heart beat should you be wondering if your physician was right in pronouncing your heart sound despite the fact that it was beating at a fast rate.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE ACQUISITION ORDER

IMPORTANT NOTICE

As announced by the Minister of Finance, the Foreign Exchange Acquisition Order, 1940, has been enacted by Order-in-Council under the authority of the War Measures Act.

Unless exempted by the Order, every resident of Canada who, on May 1st, 1940, has any foreign currency in his possession, ownership or control, whether in Canada or outside Canada, is required forthwith to sell such foreign currency to an Authorized Dealer (i.e. a branch of a chartered bank) for payment in Canadian dollars at the official buying rate of the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

"Foreign currency", for the purposes of the Order, means any currency (excluding coin) other than Canadian currency and includes bank notes, postal notes, money orders, cheques, travellers' cheques, prepaid letters of credit, bank drafts and other similar instruments payable in any currency other than Canadian currency, and also includes any amount in foreign currency of which a resident has a right to obtain payment by reason of a deposit, credit or balance of any kind at or with a bank, savings bank, trust company, loan company, stockbroker, investment dealer or other similar depository.

The Order does not require the sale of any foreign securities.

The Order does not affect any foreign currency, deposit or securities of any non-resident of Canada and for greater certainty the Order expressly declares that a non-resident visiting Canada for business or pleasure for a period or periods not exceeding six months in the year continues to be a non-resident for the purposes of the Order unless such person enters or has entered Canada with the intention of becoming a permanent resident.

No resident is required to sell any foreign currency if he satisfies the Foreign Exchange Control Board that he held such foreign currency on May 1st, 1940, solely as trustee or agent for a non-resident and that the non-resident's interest therein had not been acquired from a resident since September 15th, 1939, except in a manner approved by the Board.

Under certain conditions stipulated in Section 1 (b) of the Order, a resident who is not a Canadian citizen may be granted exemption, but only after application for exemption is approved by the Board.

No life insurance company incorporated in Canada is required by the Order to sell any foreign currency which it needs for the purpose of carrying on its business outside Canada.

Further particulars may be obtained from branches of chartered banks. Any resident who has any foreign currency in his possession, ownership or control on May 1st, 1940, regardless of amount, should consult his bank at once in order to ascertain the extent to which he is affected by the Order.

CHAPTER LIX

Anne told the story of her ride into the hills with Mosely briefly, swiftly. Just back from the hospital, Lieutenant Windom told just as compactly the tale of his own past few hours.

"Mosely must have had a busy night," he said. "Jim advised me to guard the postoffice. With the colonel's consent, I did that. It was attacked. We drove off the outlaws and wounded one, a Mexican. He was taken to the hospital and the wound dressed. While we were trying to get from the man the names of his accomplices, he was killed before our eyes, shot by a rifle through the window. The assassin had a horse stationed in the brush about a hundred yards from the hospital. Before he reached his horse he was killed, not by one of our men. Who shot him we don't know, though we heard horses galloping away." The mount of the dead killer carried the Hat T brand."

"One of Mosely's men," Anne said. Sent to kill the wounded man before he confessed."

"Yes. It must be that way. But who killed the killer? Could it have been Jim Silcott by any chance? If so, why would he run away afterward?" Windom snapped out another question, which covered the reason for telling his story. "Does any of this tie up with what you've been through, Anne?"

"I don't know," she said. "But we can't wait to knot up loose ends, Hallegh—not if we're going to save Jim. I think I can take you to the deserted ranch. Can you get some men to help us at once?"

Windom looked at his watch. "I'll move fast, Anne. You be ready here. I'll pick you up."

Pacing the floor nervously, Mosely showed more anxiety than Jim Silcott. Waiting was a nerve-racking business. Anything could go wrong so easily. Why had Jud Prentiss not returned? What was holding up the men he had sent with Silcott's note to Caldwell? A man of no loyalty himself, he put little dependence on the faithfulness of his employees. They would betray him if they were hard pressed or if there was enough money in it.

Even if all the breaks were resolved in his favor—the Gandara letters destroyed, Juan rubbed out before he had a chance to talk, Silcott buried in a gulch with a pile of stones over his unmarked grave—even then he would have to work fast and smoothly to dissipate the cloud of suspicion that must hang over him. There was Jesse Lamprey too, a weakling he dared not leave at large as a witness against him, and there was unrest among his own men. Well, he could fix all that up, give him time. First off, he had to meet the immediate difficulties confronting him.

Yeager said sourly, "Looks like this night will last forever."

The fat little man did not like the outlook. This was not his kind of villiany. He was a killer, and on occasion had picked off men from ambush. But that was out in the open stuff. He did not hold with torture, with the cold-blooded murder of a game man trapped and hog-tied. Moreover, suspicions kept sifting through his mind. If it came to a showdown, given a chance, Mosely would try to shift the blame of Silcott's death to the shoulders of his subordinates. There would be no sidestepping, Yeager resolved. The sight of Red, sick and physically broken but spirit still undaunted, got through his hide and pricked whatever touch of self-respect he had left. Silcott was doomed. He knew that. Mosely dared not leave him alive now. But he made up his mind to have no part in the final tragedy. Russ could get Jud or Roan to finish the job for him.

Silcott lay in a corner, his eyes closed. He could hear the watch in his pocket ticking away the seconds of a life that could not have many more minutes to run. It had been a long time since Judson and Lamprey rode with his note to Caldwell. Soon they must be back. Then—

Abruptly Mosely pulled up in his stride, head lifted to catch the faint drum of hoofs. What he heard was the clop-clop of a horse galloping toward them. That would be Prentiss, he guessed, with news of one danger wiped out. His gaze slewed around to Yeager, stopping on the way an instant to pick up Silcott, who had propped himself up on a forearm to listen better.

"Put out that light, Pete," he ordered.

Yeager opened the lantern and blew out the flame.

A rider's boots hit the ground as he dragged his mount to a halt. "Roan Judson," he announced hoarsely.

Mosely threw open the door.

"We gotta get outa here prontito," Judson snarled. "Hell's to pay. Silcott's friends have got Lamprey Jelks and that double-crosser Kennedy. They'll get the whole story from him."

The Hat T boss saw the house of cards he had built falling about his head. "What were you doing?" he demanded.

"Waiting outside like you told me to do," snapped the cowpuncher. "Was it my fault they walked in right at the wrong time?"

"All right. Saddle the other horses. Let's get going. Be with you in a minute." Mosely wheeled back into the house.

"We got damned little time," Judson called after him. "They'll be here in three shakes of a cow's tail, likely a whole passle of them."

"Where do we go from here, boss?" Yeager asked.

"We got to get out and take Silcott with us if we have time. Gag him, so he can't shout. They may crowd us." The voice of Mosely rasped like a file of iron. "If we have to stand 'em off before we get saddled, settle this bird's hash and come a-running to us."

"Nothing doing," Yeager flung back. "If you want him bumped off, do it yoreself."

"You fool, we've got to get rid of him to protect ourselves."

"That's yore lookout. He don't mean a thing to me dead or alive."

The two men glowered at each other in the darkness. Mosely had no time to subdue rebellion now. He gave way.

RED CROSS STORE HAS FINE RECORD

Sale of Superfluities in Victoria Produced $5,000 Profit in Six Months

Owing to the publicity given to the Victoria Red Cross superfluities store over the C.B.C. coast-to-coast network last March, and from information supplied by the store, a similar store has been opened in Ottawa, in addition to the one in Vancouver. Two or three Canadian cities are planning to follow suit, the manager of the Victoria store said yesterday.

San Francisco, Edmonton, Calgary and Winnipeg are also interested in starting their own shops, through members of their Red Cross branches having seen or heard of the Victoria superfluities store. In all cases, the fullest information has been supplied. Thus from small beginnings it is expected a large amount will be realized by the superfluities method.

Victoria was the first city in Canada to undertake a superfluity store specially for providing funds for the sufferers of the present war. These funds have gone steadily forward for the alleviation of distress in Finland, and for the Poles and other sufferers.

The store was ready for business on September 19, and from that date to April 30, assisted by Mrs. Bloomfield with her St. Bernard dog collector, the store has made a clear $5,000, besides acquiring a stock on hand, all donated, of about $2,000.

VOLUNTARY SERVICES

All services of the staff are unpaid, and the premises rent free. "It is gratifying that the splendid support of Victorians for their own superfluity store continues; some splendid gifts were received last week, and the month of April realized the satisfactory sum of $350 clear," the manager said.

"With the season for visitors commencing, this figure will be exceeded if Victorians will continue to send in their dispensable effects. As an example of a donation which was quickly turned into money, this week, may be mentioned a quantity of bunches of beautiful lilies of the valley, which all sold in about two hours."

The store will be closed at 5:30 p.m. during the Summer months.

FOREWARNED

"I should leave that case outside, sir," said the office boy.

"Why?" asked the commercial traveler.

"Well, it's a bit heavy for the guv'nor to throw out as well as you."

Committee Plans City Dispensary To Create Saving

A formulary of 146 prescriptions ranging in price from 15 to 90 cents, with an average cost of 42.9 cents, was presented to the City Council health committee by a delegation of retail druggists yesterday afternoon. The committee is proceeding with plans to establish a dispensary to take care of indigent persons, and believes that as much as 50 per cent can be saved in the cost of medicines.

At present the average cost of prescriptions furnished indigent patients is .88 cents and 25 cents for packaged remedies. The health committee intends to employ a combined public health nurse and stenographer with knowledge of prescription dispensing.
